Council Order Ends Provincial Meat Embargo

Hoist Becomes Effective Probably in Day or Two

An order-in-council lifting B.C.'s meat embargo was passed at a special provincial cabinet meeting yesterday.

Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman said the order will take effect "as soon as the federal government takes over, probably in a day or two."

Ottawa has announced it will assume "marketing direction" of meat if several provinces will lift the embargoes they imposed after the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan Feb. 25.

The federal government has established a 25-cent-a-pound stockyard floor price for beef. It will avoid pile-ups of meat by disposing of surpluses abroad.

B.C. has already relaxed its embargo, to permit importation of disease-free livestock from northern Alberta. It still bars shipments from southern Alberta, and all shipments of dressed meats.

Mr. Bowman said last night that he had told meat packers they could begin loading fresh-killed meats for shipment into the province. These shipments will be allowed into B.C. "as soon as they're ready to roll," even if the ban has not been formally lifted by that time.

Mr. Bowman said, however, that B.C. inspectors must be satisfied that the meat has come from approved disease-free areas.

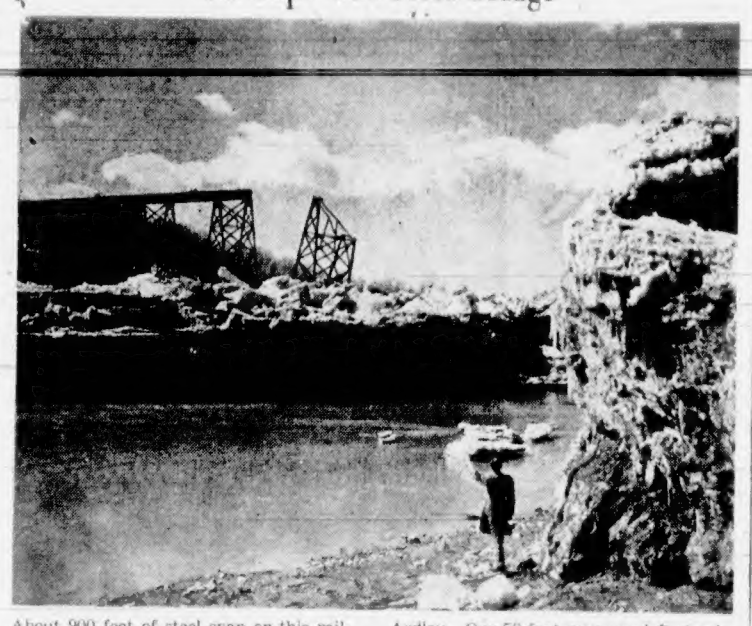
The province will recall its veterinarians from border duty, probably over the week end.

EDMONTON, April 17 (CP)—Premier E. C. Manning, commenting on British Columbia's decision to lift restrictions on prairie livestock imports in a day or two said tonight "it should have been done a long time ago."

The premier said "There was no justification for the ban in the first place and it should have been lifted at least three weeks ago. It has worked severe hardship on Alberta's livestock industry."

Meanwhile, Agriculture Minister David Ure, who has been fighting for lifting of the B.C. restrictions for weeks, was not immediately available for comment. He was expected to arrive here later tonight following a trip to Calgary.

Ice Rips Out Steel Bridge



About 900 feet of steel span on this railway bridge were ripped out and carried as much as a mile by ice jams. The Red Deer River in central Alberta rose 25 to 30 feet within a few hours to smash this Canadian National Railways bridge near Ardley. One 50-foot span was left standing, but piers were moved and the C.N.R. is preparing to replace the 1,000-foot bridge. Two Navy Aircraft Crash in Atlantic

Island Man One of Seven Now Objects of Search

HALIFAX, April 17 (CP)—Two navy Avenger aircraft, carrying out a "strike" against the cruiser Quebec, crashed into the Atlantic tonight with seven men aboard.

Wreckage was found by the Quebec following a sweep of the area but there were no signs of survivors.

Missing are:

Lieut. John S. Murphy, R.R. No. 1, Wellington, Vancouver Island;

Lieut. John K. H. Mason, Toronto;

AB. William Hunter, Clarence Park, N.S.;

Lieut. William J. Hutchinson, Dartmouth, N.S.;

Lieut. John E. P. Anderson, Dartmouth;

Sub-Lieut. J. A. Plotkins (2511 Fifth St. West), Calgary;

AB. Doug Moffatt, Montreal.

An air search came to a halt tonight when weather clamped down on the sea but surface vessels continued the task. The navy is sending a flotilla, including three destroyers, to work with the Quebec in the search.

The Quebec reported it was in the midst of wreckage, "apparently of two aircraft," but had not found any survivors. The planes, which normally carry three men, carry full survival equipment, such as dinghies and rafts which are self-inflating.

Although single-engined, they are large aircraft, often used as torpedo bombers. The Avengers were based at neighboring Shearwater.

The navy said the accident occurred about 70 miles south of Shelburne, on Nova Scotia's south coast. The two aircraft had been carrying out a "search and air strike" against the Quebec, heading for Halifax from the west coast.

The R.C.A.F., which sent a Lancaster bomber, equipped with droppable rescue apparatus, to the scene, said it was recalling the aircraft because "the weather is socking in."

The Quebec "swept" the area and did not report any luck. The ill-fated aircraft had been part of a five-plane exercise. The frigate Lahalluoise and a high speed launch sped to the area to help in the search.

The submarine Alcide and the minesweeper Wallaceburg, earlier said to be assisting, are not in the search area, the navy said.

Avengers normally carry a crew of three but apparently one of the planes carried an extra man. The accident was first reported from the Quebec just before 9 p.m. EST.

Wage Boost Hinted

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Commerce secretary Charles Sawyer tonight summoned the private owners of the seized steel industry to his office Friday—perhaps to tell them how much the government will increase workers' wages.

Sawyer, government boss of the seized industry, said he would meet later Friday with C.I.O. president Philip Murray. Murray said today he expects the government to "impose" the full amount of the wage stabilization board recommendations.

Murray told a National Press Club luncheon he would take nothing less than the 17½-cent-an-hour increase recommended by the W.S.B. He indicated, however, there would be no strike by the C.I.O. steelworkers if the government gave him less.

"I have never struck against the government in my life," Murray said. "That question would have to be decided at our union convention in Philadelphia next month."

President Truman told a press conference that he, and not Sawyer, would have the final word on the amount of a government-directed pay boost, if any.

Opposition Warned In Capetown

CAPETOWN, April 17 (Reuters)—Justice Minister Charles R. Swart said tonight he will hold the United Party responsible for anything that might happen on the "day of protest" planned by the anti-government Torch Commando.

He said in Parliament that the Commando, a veterans' organization, threatened to bring South African trade to a "virtual standstill" on a protest day against the government plan to deny the courts the right to test constitutionality of legislation.

Swart said that since the United Party, the leading opposition group, announced an alliance with the Commando last night, it had in fact agreed to the plan to paralyze South Africa.

United Party spokesman Harry Oppenheimer replied the United Party had shown itself just as anxious as the government to maintain order.

Milk Price Differential Set for Mainland Area

A one-cent-a-quart store differential on the price of milk in the Greater Vancouver area was approved by the provincial cabinet yesterday afternoon.

The order means that Vancouver housewives will soon be able to buy milk in stores for one cent a quart less than they would pay to have it delivered to their homes.

The change was set out in a B.C. Milk Board order which becomes effective next Monday. It applies only to Vancouver.

The order also permits distributors to use the skip-a-day delivery system or to deliver six or five days a week.

There was no change in milk prices. Standard milk sells in Vancouver for 22 cents a quart.

The board has set minimum loads that any milk truck may carry. From now on each milk truck must deliver an average of 320 quarts of milk a day.

This regulation is designed to cut overhead costs for distributors, by preventing them from having too many delivery trucks on the road.

All milk dealers will be required to report from time to time on their operating costs. Their reports will be checked by a milk board accountant.

The board also plans to look into the feasibility of bonding milk distributors to protect both consumers and producers in case the distributor goes out of business.

Netherlander Puffs to Title

FLINT, Mich., April 17 (AP)—Nico Klijzing of Purmerend, The Netherlands, today won a contest with the world's pipe smoking champion with puffs to spare.

The 77-year-old Klijzing made 3.3 grams of Burley tobacco last him 92 minutes and 38 seconds, bettering the world record by more than four minutes.

At the same time Paul Spanjola, 38, owner of a Flint tobacco shop, went through his tobacco in 43 minutes here. The men made comparisons by telephone.

Island Points Losing Sunday Milk Delivery

COURTENAY, April 17—Delivery of milk on Sundays in the Courtenay district will cease on April 20, according to notice given by the Comox Creamery Association and five other dairies.

Areas affected are Courtenay, Comox, Royston, Union Bay, and Sandwick.

It is believed that the plan is the first of its kind to go into effect on Vancouver Island.

Extra supplies will be carried by the milkmen on Saturday deliveries.

Dairymen assert that the move is made to combat the increasing cost of distribution and to forestall a possible future rise in the price of retail milk.

The agreement was made between the six groups in order to give drivers and dairymen who drive their own trucks a day off, the dairies said.

Drivers for the Comox Creamery who are paid on a commission basis, will not lose out for taking Sunday off.

Polish Budget Adds to Arms

STOCKHOLM, April 17 (Reuters)—Poland is nearly doubling her military expenditure in a record budget this year.

Details of the new budget reaching here list her military expenditures at 6,601,925,000 zlotys ($1,680,000,000) or about 10 per cent of her total budget. The figure is almost twice last year's arms appropriations.

In the 1948 budget, defense was put at 34,100,000,000 zlotys, but this figure is equal to only 1,023,000,000 zlotys at the present value of the currency. Last year, the zloty was revalued with three new zlotys equal to 100 old zlotys.

Television Eye For Submarines

LONDON, April 17 (Reuters). — Underwater television which will help scientists to explore the oceans and may revolutionize submarine warfare was demonstrated publicly for the first time at Tolworth, Surrey, today.

Reporters saw on television screens a frogman diver sawing wood at the bottom of a tank filled with murky water. A coin he fished from the waters could be seen in detail.

Submarines in wartime will no longer have to nose blindly through enemy defenses. An underwater television camera will act as an eye showing what lies ahead.

Refund Notice Cashed

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP)—It has finally happened — a logger who cannot speak English admitted in police court today that he cashed, as a cheque, a $56 income tax refund notice in a downtown cafe.

And the Chinese cashier, who can speak English, accepted the assessment notice as a cheque and passed good cash to the logger.

REMANDED

Nick Gulowach, 52, was remanded by Magistrate Oscar Orr to Saturday for decision on a charge of defrauding the Model Cafe of the money on April 3. Gulowach was arrested two weeks later while passing the cafe.

Pleading innocent to the charge, he presented his case through an interpreter and maintained stubbornly that the "government sent me a cheque every year—this is a cheque.

"How was I to know? Every year the government sends me a cheque and every year it's different."

Canadian Speech Under Fire

TORONTO, April 17 (CP)—Professor George E. Buckley of University of Western Ontario said tonight he things Canadian speech is bumpy, flat, monotonous and slurred.

Addressing the special education section of the Ontario Educational Association, he said "Canada has no universal standard of what constitutes good speech. We miss the English public schools.

"Perhaps it is the tensions and pace of our modern life which leads to our sloppy speech."

The lack of well-mannered, intelligent conversations — "we're not good listeners, therefore we're not good talkers"—made for poor speech habits.

Dikes Still Hold Raging Missouri

OMAHA, April 17 (AP)—The angry floodwaters of the Missouri River swirled above the 30-foot mark—more than 11 feet over the flood stage—tonight but the dikes of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Ia., held firm.

Suspense gripped the twin cities with the crest of the greatest flood in the wild Missouri's history only hours away.

By dawn, the Missouri will be throwing against the dikes and flood walls the worst it has to offer.

There was some seepage at critical points tonight but army engineers said pumps are keeping up with it.

There is a feeling in Council Bluffs, from Mayor James F. Mulqueen down to the men working on the levees, that the battle might be won. The same guarded optimism prevailed in Omaha.

The unprecedented mass of water, constricted into a bottleneck formed by the cities, is pushing with terrifying force against the protective works.

Sandbolls developed and brought pinpointed rushes of workers to choke them.

Water pushed against and spilled through the flashboard which tops the concrete flood wall along Omaha's industrial riverfront. Pumps lifted the overflow back into the channel.

Secondary and supplementary dikes have been erected and bolstered wherever necessary.

Some 34,000 of Council Bluffs' 45,000 residents and another 5,000 from across the river had abandoned their homes, leaving nearly three-fourths of Council Bluffs and the entire East Omaha and Carter Lake, Ia., areas ghostly vacant.

The river level late today passed 29.7 feet. A crest of 31.5 is expected during the night. Flood stage is 19 and the previous record high in 1881 is 24.6.

In lesser degree, the Omaha-Council Bluffs drama is being repeated downstream almost as far south as Kansas City.

Farmers all along the valley moved livestock and machinery to higher ground as more rich land was engulfed. At least a dozen towns and cities in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri below Omaha are fighting water.

Floodwaters Recede In Prairie Regions

EASTEND, Sask., April 17 (CP)—Floodwaters from Frenchman Creek receded today. Early tonight most of the streets in Eastend's business section were almost free of water.

Throughout southwestern Saskatchewan's flood area there was improvement.

At Duncairn Dam, 25 miles south of Swift Current on the northward-flowing Swift Current Creek, diminishing runoff from the eastern slopes of the Cypress Hills allowed water from the reservoir to discharge without endangering the spillway.

At Valmarie, 50 miles downstream from Eastend, the crest of Frenchman Creek still was expected to strike two dams west of the town within the next 48 hours. But officials said there had been ample time to make adequate preparations and little danger was seen.

First loss of life in the southwestern Saskatchewan floods was reported at Climax, 20 miles southeast of Eastend. The body of Wellington Weir, young rider in the Climax community pasture, was recovered from a flooded slough after his riderless horse returned to its stable.

U.S. Prisoners Try Breakout

RAHWAY, N.J., April 17 (AP)—Some 250 prisoners attempted to break out of the state prison farm here tonight through the barred windows of a dormitory while 69 convicts still held out in a mutiny at the state prison in Trenton, 40 miles away.

The Rahway inmates tried to get away after rioting in the dormitory wing. Nine guards were trapped in the wing and several injured.

Superintendent R. W. Lagay, who reported first details of the mutiny, said it "must be tied up in some way" with the Trenton revolt where a gang of convicts have barricaded themselves in a prison print shop since Tuesday and are holding three prison employees hostage.

Old Question Back Again

That old question "Is it hot enough for you?" cropped up in strength in Victoria conversations yesterday, with everybody heartily agreeing it must be the hottest day of the year, so far.

The weatherman confirmed it. Temperature between 3.30 and 4.30 p.m. hit 68.

"I doubt very much if it's a record," the weatherman said, thumbing jimply through his record book.

He confirmed that, too. April, 1934, saw a record temperature of 75, and in April, 1851, the mercury went up to 70.

Beef Price Encounter

Beef prices and rules of procedure tangled at the legislature yesterday when Frank Partridge, chairman of the Citizens' League, tried to present a protest on beef prices to Premier Johnson. The premier, in turn, gave the chairman an understanding that such petitions could not be presented without first making an appointment. —(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Teachers Cap Convention With Many Resolutions

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP)—The British Columbia Teachers' Federation dealt with almost 40 resolutions in three hours today as they wound up their 36th annual convention.

The close to 600 delegates from all parts of the province criticized the trend to larger schools, asked that primary classes be limited to 25 pupils, and turned down a move to give themselves one rest-period a school day.

They authorized formation of an academic standards committee "to investigate the whole problem of academic standards in secondary schools" by supporting a resolution from Rossland that "broadened curricula to attract more students has caused a deterioration in secondary education standards."

A controversial resolution—one on juvenile delinquency—was sidestepped. Submitted by the staff of Alexandra School, Vancouver, it pointed to an increase in vandalism and urged that authorities be given power to administer corporal punishment to the culprits, and to permit their names and those of their parents to be published.

The meeting agreed the resolution be withdrawn.

They approved a recommendation from their teacher training and certification committee that a committee be set up to screen prospective students intent on entering the teaching profession.

New TB Drugs Tested in B.C.

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP)

New "miracle drugs" now under test in British Columbia may strike a death blow at tuberculosis, Dr. H. Gordon Baker of the provincial health department said here today.

He said compounds such as rimicon, developed by United States researchers, hold "high promise" of effecting strong control over B.C.'s No. 1 infectious disease killer.

In 1951 there were 300 deaths and 1,700 new cases reported. There are 19,000 known cases documented in provincial files.

"Tests indicate very encouraging results," Dr. Baker said, "and although it is too early to say anything definite, it looks as though this is it."

Tests began here three weeks ago, but it will be six months before concrete results will show, he said.

Municipalities Not Consulted On Provincial Traffic Program

Provincial government plans to channel all traffic into Victoria by one route were reached without any consultation with the two municipalities concerned, it was learned yesterday.

Result is that the two municipalities are charged with the upkeep and traffic control of a route on which they had no say.

Main concern locally at present is that Douglas Street may prove a serious bottleneck and traffic hazard.

Details of the second phase of the highway have not yet been released, but these will affect neither Victoria nor Saanich directly.

Indications are that Saanich will have a problem on Douglas between Regina, where the two highways pour in, and Tolmie, where the border lies. The stretch is now in the form of a bottleneck, opening into a wider stretch at Tolmie.

Victoria probably will be charged with the necessity of eliminating the roundabout, and a two-highway flow of traffic direct into the downtown area.

Both Mayor Claude Harrison and City Clerk Frank Hunter confirmed that the city had no information on the B.C. plans, either by mail or direct meeting.

Commenting on the lack of collaboration, Mayor Harrison said: "I wish they had."

Nobody said a word or approached Saanich council, Reeve Joseph Casey said.

It has been suggested that two routes are needed for the three-way traffic that moves into Victoria from the north. This traffic includes all West Coast travel from Jordan River, Sooke, etc.; the entire Saanich Peninsula, which will be served by the new Pat Bay Highway, now being paved; and all traffic from up-island.

The first two routes now come into Victoria along the Island Highway and the Gorge, while Saanich traffic enters by Quadra Street.

Heaviest flow of traffic will come during the tourist season, when tourists pack the Island Highway.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Nanaimo looks far more like "a bit of old England" than Victoria ever will, I though as we drove through last week end.

With its crooked, rather narrow streets, full of people, Nanaimo has a faint resemblance to an English provincial town on market day. Somewhat more boisterous perhaps, but similar. Reminders of England are the closely-packed buildings and the film of friendly grime.

Victoria's claim to be like England is largely nonsense. Who ever heard, for instance, of an English town without pubs? Nanaimo has lots of pubs—although they are not exactly English style.

We didn't pick up any servicemen hitchhiking this trip, but we have picked them up before. They said quite frankly that they were heating their way to Nanaimo for the week-end, because there was nothing to do in Victoria.

* * *

We turned at Qualicum toward Port Alberni, past the Doukhobors at Hilliers and out on the main Port Alberni highway. We put in briefly at Little Qualicum Falls Park for a picnic lunch.

This is a little jewel of a park where forest service workers have made the woods and riverside neat and accessible without violating nature.

There was an open-sided rustic building, in good harmony with the surroundings, for wet-weather picnics. And of course the day was wet—who ever heard of a fine day for a Mortimore picnic? So we had our lunch under shelter. There were cooking fireplaces indoors and outdoors, with wood neatly chopped and ready.

After lunch I went running along the path toward the upper falls, looking down on the river as it boiled through its little canyon. In a fairly smooth stretch a little dipper bird flicked over the surface of the water and suddenly dived under. My wife and mother-in-law ambled along slowly, and I went far ahead of them, doubling back, hiding behind trees and leaping out at them, like an amateur Indian scout.

It was good to stand on the bridge and look down on the cold green and white falls, hear the roar and smell the spray, and then to run through the woods again back to the car. Inarticulate people, confronted with the space labeled "Comments" in the visitors' book, simply write "Very fine park," or "beautiful view." I couldn't think of anything appropriate, so I left it blank.

* * *

Port Alberni is a fine town with broad streets, but it has one drawback: it smells. Residents get used to the pulp mill odor and don't notice it, but it hits the visitor like a wall. Can't something be done?

A bird broke the cool silence of the tall trees as we wandered through Cathedral Grove. These forest giants are among the last of their race. It was fine foresight to preserve them. Little chatty signs by the forest service draw attention to the species and particularly good specimens. They seem to belong there.

At Oyster Bay beyond Courtenay a logging company has a breakwater made of dead ships. I was sad to see the storied old clipper St. Paul had disappeared . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stallworthy were our friendly hosts at Timberlane, Oyster River. Harry, an ex-Mountie, spent many years in the Northland. Floyd Hanson, formerly of Victoria, is building a resort there.

Up at the Forbidden Plateau Lodge the snow was deep and a few people skied down the hill below the lodge. From now on the skiing on the Plateau is at its best, but people begin to lose interest. So said Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers, co-proprietor. (Her husband is on a trip to England.)

Funds Insufficient for Arena, Home

Expenditure of $127,283 of the city's capital funds on the Memorial Arena will leave only $82,500 about half the amount needed for the proposed nursing home addition.

This was disclosed yesterday by city comptroller Dennis Young in a report to the finance committee.

Supporters of the Victoria Nursing Home addition have been counting on the fund for the $150,000 needed as Victoria's share in the cost of the new building.

During 1951, Mr. Young pointed out, $292,283 was collected from sale of city-owned lands. Under provisions of the Municipal Act this money can be used only for special purposes and then only with approval of the cabinet.

Last year, he said $82,500 was applied toward the cost of the new Health and Welfare Building leaving $207,783. Later a by-law was drawn up for presentation to council authorizing expenditure of $127,283 for the arena and certain other items to be included.

The by-law has not yet been through council, he said.

"If the monies were applied to the Nursing Home rather than the arena," Mr. Young stated, "it would result in an additional demand being made on the taxpayers of this city to the extent of approximately 1½ mills."

He added: "As all committees are striving to keep a possible mill rate increase to the barest minimum, I feel that any action by the council which will tend to further increase the burden on careful consideration at this time."

Meanwhile, city officials are a little more optimistic about the possibility of keeping the mill rate in line with last year's 55 mill rate.

MILL WORTH MORE

Although this year's budget is expected to reach a record total close to $6,519,555, more than $170,000 over that of last year, Mr. Young has indicated the mill is worth $51,000 as compared with last year's $47,927.

This means, in effect, that the budget 2.6 per cent and still keep the 55 mill tax rate.

Woods Rules Made Tighter

New safeguards for B.C. forests have been written into the provincial forestry department's regulations.

One new rule will require power-saw operators to carry fire extinguishers or other fire-fighting apparatus. Gasoline-powered saws are considered dangerous because bits of flaming carbon are sometimes shot out of their exhausts when the motors backfire.

Logging and construction camps will have to have more small tank-pumps on hand. Larger camps will be required to have more power pumps.

Yes, it's a fact! That sheer filmy creation in your wardrobe may well have begun life in some dark quiet British Columbia forest.

Nighties are but one of the many items of wearing apparel now produced from high quality acetate yarns. Today, you'll find these wonder yarns turning into fine drapes, hangings, slip covers, rugs, and scores of other colorful fabrics for modern living. In still another form they become that most versatile of all materials . . . acetate plastic.

Acetate yarns and plastics are derived from purified cellulose . . . a snow white wood pulp refined from spruce and hemlock trees. Through the miracle of chemistry, the big Columbia Cellulose plant at Prince Rupert is now converting logs into the basic ingredient for materials which will eventually reach your living room or clothes closet.

There's nothing remote or mysterious about our work up here at Columbia Cellulose. It is intimately associated with many phases of everyday living. It also makes a great and growing contribution to the economic wealth of our Province. And that's important to all of us!

Columbia Cellulose Company is the first unit of a rapidly expanding Canadian industrial organisation. Within a few months, this organization will be combining timber from British Columbia with natural gas derivatives from Alberta to produce a wide range of fibres and other acetate products for Canadians from coast to coast. Our program of continuous forest yield ensures lasting full-time employment for thousands of Canadian workers.

Population of Canada Continues City Trend

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP)—Canada, it seems, is slowly but steadily becoming a country of city dwellers.

The trend from country to city and town has been going on for 50 years and is still continuing, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Without attempting to analyze, the bureau said its 1951 census figures disclose that 61.6 per cent of all Canadians now live in urban localities while 38.4 per cent reside in the country.

It wasn't always that way. Back in 1901 there were five rural to every three urban dwellers. In the 1941 census, 56.5 per cent of Canadians lived in cities and towns and 43.5 per cent in rural districts.

A [illegible] study of 1951 census figures, the bureau reported that both urban and rural population grew between 1941 and 1951. But the urban rise exceeded the rural.

A special compilation of 1951 figures shows the urban population increased 32.7 per cent from 6,501,326 to 7,628,253 while the rural population rose only 7.5 per cent from 5,005,329 to 5,381,176. And while all provinces showed urban gains, the rural populations of four—Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Alberta and Prince Edward Island—declined.

The entry of Newfoundland into confederation in 1949 accounted for 201,621 of the over-all rural gain and 154,795 of the over-all urban increase.

However, in five provinces and the two territories, the rural population still outnumbers the urban but in each case the proportion of country dwellers has decreased since 1941, while urbanites have increased.

Manitoba's urban population increased 22.2 per cent from 359,678 to 439,580; Saskatchewan's 31.3 per cent from 192,282 to 252,470; Alberta's 69.3 per cent from 265,529 to 449,675 and British Columbia's 44.4 per cent from 549,254 to 793,471.

Even in the thinly-populated territories there have been changes. In the 10-year period, the Yukon's rural population decreased from 78.8 to 71.5 per cent and that of the Northwest Territories from 88.3 to 83 per cent.

Camp Theft Warrants Out

PEMBROKE, Ont., April 17 (CP)—Warrants were sworn out tonight for the arrest of two army officers and four civilians following an investigation into thefts at Petawawa military camp.

The thefts were reported to include $64,000 worth of steel rails and other goods to a total value of more than $1,000,000.

The men to be charged include a major and captain of the Royal Canadian Engineers and civilian representatives of a salvage company here.

Names of the men sought by R.C.M.P. were withheld pending their arrest.

Defense headquarters announced last week that an investigation was being conducted into reported thefts at the big military establishment 118 miles northwest of here.

Further details of the thefts were withheld but sources here said they included $64,000 worth of rails from a double-track railway spur built by the Canadian Pacific Railway to the military camp.

Mainguy Plans Visit to Chippawa

WINNIPEG, April 17 (CP)—Canada's chief of naval staff, Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, will make his first inspection of H.M.C.S. Chippawa, Winnipeg's navy reserve division, April 23.

Admiral Mainguy, who took over the navy's top post in December, is visiting Chippawa in the course of an inspection tour of all naval bases and divisions in western Canada.

He has a special interest in the "Prairie navy" since he was once supervising officer of western reserve divisions.

Submarine Men Mark Anniversary of Loss

PORTSMOUTH, England, April 17 (Reuters).—The submarine Alliance left port at dawn today to drop 95 wreaths on the English Channel spot where her sister ship, the Affray, sank with 75 men aboard one year ago today. The wreaths were from families of the crew and from the government.

"Purty Tune" Saves Cash

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—The man stuck a gun in the tavern piano player's ribs and said: "That's purty. Keep playin' it 'till this is over." With trembling hands, the pianist played "Whispering" again and again, police said, while three robbers [illegible] the customers and 30 persons, finally making off with $2,000 in cash today. For his co-operation, they left the musician's purse untouched.

Delegates Open Wheat Bargaining

LONDON, April 17 (Reuters).—Delegates from nearly every country in the western world met here today to bargain on the price of the earth's most important food—wheat.

They began private talks to renew the international wheat agreement, under which most of the world's exportable wheat is bought and sold.

It is a long, involved document of price ceilings and floors, quotas, clauses and sub-clauses. Its effect on the man-in-the-street in the importing countries is great.

If the price of his bread has remained steady since March, 1949, he can thank the international wheat agreement. It was signed in Washington in that month and expires in July, 1953. Canada is one of the signatories.

Its object is to prevent violent fluctuations in the price of wheat. Importing countries gained this concession from the exporters because they guaranteed to buy a fixed amount yearly.

The talks here today will centre not so much on whether to renew the agreement—that seems pretty certain—but on what prices will be paid in the next few years.

Canada and Australia, two of the four exporting countries (the others are the United States and France), will almost certainly ask for higher prices. They will point out that the prices fixed in 1949 now are far below the world's "free market" prices.

But many importing countries are currently well-stocked with wheat. In West Germany, for instance, stocks are believed twice as large as they were last year. The importers therefore have greater bargaining power.

U.S. Parents Asked To Gamble on Polio

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—United States parents today were asked to take a gamble in hopes of finding a way to prevent polio.

The request came from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The gamble is this: To allow some children to get an injection that may prevent polio, but not to allow other children to have it.

It isn't known whether this injection will work in humans. It has worked in monkeys. Only by keeping it from some children will science learn whether the injection does any good for humans.

The injection is gamma globulin, a protein or blood fraction that comes from human blood.

In monkeys, injections of the gamma globulin have prevented polio, after the monkeys were fed big doses of polio virus.

This blood fraction carries the antibodies against diseases, including polio. Blood from most humans contains the antibodies to kill the polio virus, because most of us at some time have had polio, but such slight cases we never knew it.

In monkeys, at least, it's known that the polio virus gets into the bloodstream, before it enters nerves and causes paralysis. When monkeys got gamma globulin in time, it destroyed the viruses before they could cause any sickness.

Last summer in Provo, Utah, parents agreed to an experiment in which some children threatened by a polio epidemic would get the gamma globulin while others wouldn't.

The results of that test are not clear, Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director of the polio foundation, told a press conference today.

Few Britons To Get Cars

LONDON, April 17 (Reuters).—Only one in every 20 Britons who want a new car will get one this year. Some would-be motorists have waited since 1946 for a new car.

Only 60,000 cars will reach the home market—the lowest total for any peace-time year since 1923. The rest of British production will be exported under government orders to earn foreign currency. Last year's exports were 368,737 cars.

B.C. Teachers Throw Criticism Back Into Lap of Professor

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP)—Delegates to the annual British Columbia Teachers' Federation convention here took time out today to brand a Queen's University professor a "nut and a crackpot."

Prof. A. R. M. Lower, top historian at the Kingston, Ont., university, yesterday said teachers are "emasculated citizens, incapable of teaching citizenship."

He said teachers "are so busy learning how to teach they seldom have time to find out what they are talking about."

Eric Woodman, North Vancouver teacher said: "I think he's nuts. I think he's sounding off to stir up the teachers."

Other teachers's reactions to the words "emasculated citizens" were off-the-record, but pungent.

Prof. Lower told the history teachers section of the Ontario Education Association convention in Toronto that it is doubtful if students become good citizens through studying history. He said at least half of his own classes—the women—couldn't even understand the nature of responsible government.

Miss Hilda Cryderman, student counsellor from Vernon, B.C., said this was an admission "of his own shortcomings as a teacher."

"He is not a product of B.C. school system or he would know that the graduates of our schools measure up to their responsibilities of full citizenship with pride in their country and respect for its laws," said Miss Cryderman.

Jack Stoat, of Nanaimo, said if the women in his class can't understand the subject, then he is failing as a teacher.

He said it was Prof. Lower's responsibility to see that his students on becoming teachers are not "emasculated citizens."

Oddities

HUDDERSFIELD, Eng., April 17 (AP) — A bartender who helped a customer—a good one, apparently—into his car was fined 10 pounds ($28) Wednesday for "aiding and abetting" drunken driving.

The police nabbed the customer-driver, who pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and paid 25 pounds ($70).

Bartender Tom Hobson, the police added, knew the man had had too much when he helped him to his vehicle.

The judge agreed.

It is equipped with gadgets which squirt tear gas into the back seat, automatically lock the rear door, close a bullet-proof partition between driver and passenger, and sound a large klaxon.

Freight Rates From Taxes

CONSIDERING the incessant freight rate increases, amounting to some 45 per cent in the last three years, that the Board of Transport Commissioners has awarded to Canadian railways, the present $7,000,000 reduction in through rates ordered as an equalizing factor can have only slight effect on the general cost of moving goods by rail across the country. Two "interim" increases and six many permanent revisions have left the general level of freight tariffs at the highest point they have ever been, and made a difference of scores of millions of dollars to the cost of trading, east and west. The new reduction applies at the highwater mark, and even that will be covered by subsidy so that the railways will not lose on it.

What is happening in fact is a transfer of this part of the rail tariffs to the shoulders of the long-suffering Canadian taxpayers. It is they who will now put up the difference. Everywhere it can be shown that business in British Columbia, for instance, will benefit from the board's order one can also find British Columbian taxpayers at whose expense this indulgence is being made. Out of one railway pocket into the other the amount involved in this "reduction" will pass undiminished. Shippers will benefit as shippers, but lose as taxpayers. There is little equalization in that.

As any permanent settlement of freight levels the subsidy was a strange device for the government to enact and the transport board to incorporate into any equalization plan. It invites attention as a precedent. Now there are two roads to increased railway revenues, one through the transport board and the other through the Dominion treasury. The subsidy itself was some admission that rail rates have already been raised to a point beyond a practical limit. Yet even subsidies do not stay fixed. The provinces one day may be faced with rail claims for higher subsidies, as an easy and convenient means of increasing rail returns without having to fight business on its own level. Only the taxpayers know how many times in this and other ways they have become the final punching bag, and so it is proving once again.

The Esquimalt Grant

SOMETIMES it looks as though federal authorities were deliberately trying to bedevil Esquimalt's grant-in-lieu-of-taxes situation. At the best of times the settlement is never straightforward, and to date it has been most unjust. This small municipality is in actual effect subsidizing the national defense effort to an extent it cannot afford, but nothing seems to shake the indifference of Ottawa over its resultant financial difficulties.

Now it is suggested that because the grant is paid by the defense department, whereas formerly it came from the finance department, the municipality runs the risk of its being cut off in event of an emergency. This seems scarcely credible since if an emergency occurred defense installations would need the services and co-operation of Esquimalt Municipality more than ever, but it illustrates the frustration that faces Esquimalt every time the subject is broached.

Obviously the municipality should not be at the mercy of any departmental whim, and the grant should be on a basis of permanency that puts it beyond doubt. It should also be on a basis that is much more equitable. As matters stand the municipality, because crown-held land is exempt from local taxation, loses about 75 per cent of the revenue it would receive were these properties fully taxed. Instead of $100,000 tax monies it receives a $25,000 grant.

In a municipality of such small means as Esquimalt this is a big loss, and one that cannot be made up from any other source. The disparity has been further aggravated by the recent sale of the Yarrows yard to the defense department, which lifts another $12,000 from tax returns. Even if the power of recompense remains with the defense department, and is not returned to the finance department, it should be found possible to bring the grant more in line with the reality of the case. Indeed, with over two billion dollars at its disposal this fiscal year no department is in a better position to play fair with those upon whom the nation depends for one of its two chief naval bases.

Wasting Police Manpower

IN theory the purpose of Victoria's downtown parking meters is to assist in the regulation of traffic. They do so to a limited extent; but in actual practice the large sums of money they exact annually from motorists have come to be regarded as their chief worth. Since the city treasury is the principal benefactor from meter rents and fines for violations, there is much merit in the proposal of the police commission that the city hall rather than the police force should be responsible for policing the meters.

There is nothing new in this suggestion. The Colonist contended long ago that it was a waste of specially-trained manpower to employ police officers as gatherers of taxes paid into the city's general revenue account, which is what fines for parking violations amount to for the most part. It is most uneconomical to use the product of police schools for a routine job requiring no special skill or experience. The idea that this almost mechanical chore is a useful part of recruit training is not worth considering. There are other and more important ways in which young policemen can be given experience in "meeting the public."

Victoria's police force should be training men for the preservation of law and order, not as rent collectors. If the force were rid of responsibility for the city's slot machines there might be more men available for public protection against burglars, petty thieves and nuisances to society generally.

AN EXPLANATION

Sir,—A mistake in the report of a cribbage hand held by myself while playing against my son Jack has led to a number of telephone calls and other messages founded on error. The cribbage hand I held was as follows: Three fives and the jack of diamonds in my hand, and the five of diamonds (not a second jack as stated) turned up on the deck. Will you please publish this correction to set the matter straight. Some people are telling me that we do not know how to count a perfect cribbage hand.

BUTTLE LAKE

Sir,—In all the discussions regarding Buttle Lake, Strathcona Park, the spiritual values of the case have been barely mentioned, and were not considered by the B.C. legislature when that wise assembly approved the damming of the lake.

History shows that nations which abused their natural resources never became happier, but eventually suffered retribution for their desecration of the gifts which the Creator gave them to protect.

The remark by one bright M.L.A., "Buttle Lake be dammed," was as intelligent as the action of the legislature in arriving at a decision without first requiring to know the facts.

Our legislators have struck a severe blow at the cause of conservation in B.C. May they long remain proud of their decision.

DENIS H. BESLEY.

CIVIC WAGE INCREASES

Sir,—Several months ago when the proposed wage increases were broached they were met with considerable resistance both by the city council and public feeling. Now they are an accomplished fact and it would seem that we have fallen into a state of mind where these increases are considered as not only inevitable but also justified.

No one questions the right of any group of wage earners to a fair standard of living but most people are now asking themselves where they can get off this merry-go-round.

In the case of the police department it would be interesting, as a public service, to publish a comparative statement showing the increased wages over a 10-year period and how it compares with the cost of living, including where possible, any perquisites such as retirement funds, uniforms and so on. Included in this comparison should be wage rates for comparable types of service work (and not for similar work in other parts of the province). This would do much to allay the criticism and frustration of the taxpaying public.

It would seem that the taxpayer should form its own union in self protection. Or must taxpayers suffer in silence? Even if the wage increases are justified is it fair that the small property owner should bear the brunt by a blanket increase in the mill rate?

No wonder the surrounding municipalities are growing so fast. They share all our conveniences without the cost.

E. W. HOLBORN.

1460 Thurlow Road, Victoria, B.C.

SMALL TAX RELIEF

Sir,—The budget gave considerable tax relief to groups that appealed for aid, with which I find no fault. But, surprisingly enough, although our representatives at Ottawa unanimously passed a resolution in the House urging our government to wipe out the over-4% limitation on the amount of medical expenses which can be deducted for income tax purposes, the Department of National Health and Welfare has at times intimated that free medical services are just around the corner, the relief given to taxpayers with heavy medical expenses was nil.

People with perpetual medical requirements, as insulin and other allowable drugs, hearing aids, etc., but of insufficient cost to jump this 4% hurdle, will not be pleased. Nor those with big expenditures for a single illness over a period of years, with the 4% of income deduction each year.

The ability to pay often determines the amount of surgical fee, and also the extent of nursing services, and rightly so. Increasing the maximum deductible expenses from $1,000 to $2,000 per family helps, but it does not help the average taxpayer, even if the bills exceed $1,000, as his taxable income is well within the old limit. It seems the aid might have been extended downward as well as upward.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

WHEN I saw the envelope marked "Charlie Chaplin Studios" I knew of course that it didn't contain a personal letter from Mr. Chaplin to myself. We are scarcely that chummy. I know him, shadowy fashion, but he knows me not at all, rather a one-sided proposition since peradventure I have added fractionally to his income. (An extremely minute fraction, naturally, but still . . .)

No, as I guessed, the missive was from a publicity agent who by some devilry has my name on the mailing list that helps to justify his existence. And as I also expected it told me about Mr. Chaplin's new picture.

I bear Charlie no ill will even though he would pass me on the street, however, and it interested me to learn he is now at work cutting (editing) his latest celluloid epic. Epic is a much abused word, I'm afraid, especially in movieland, but I have no doubt even if he doesn't thus proclaim it from the housetops, a la Mr. De Mille, that Mr. Chaplin will consider it to be a masterpiece just the same. (As well he might, perhaps, in light of the past.)

* * *

This little advance "puff," as it happens, merely cites one incident of the cutting process, which really makes it quite a modest document to come from a publicity agent. Seemingly in one scene of the film Charlie appears with three of his children, and for their edification he let them see in advance how they looked. The reaction of the eldest, an eight-year-old, was intriguing for a movie family.

"I don't like me," she said. However so long as multitudes like her father presumably the Chaplin household will manage to survive this wayward dissident. Not that I blame the child, cameras being the baleful things they are, although she can't be taking after her father. I don't think he would say that of himself.

In truth he has had little reason to do so—I mean of course in relation to his motion pictures. Not being his bosom pal, as I indicated, I have no knowledge of his feelings when he looks into his mirror. Conceivably there are days when he might say with his daughter "I don't like me."

But we are not likely to know about that so let's proceed. This new picture is entitled "Limelight" and Charles plays the part of a British music hall comedian, which seems altogether a very appropriate arangement. He has always been in the limelight and he once was a British music hall comedian, so what could be more felicitous.

* * *

I assume he will not be the lugubrious but loveable tramp of the silent era, who is the only Charlie I know. His later metamorphisis into a French Bluebeard and a German Hitler escaped me, so that I recall only the baggy pants, the bowler hat, and the mimicry that set him high above his fellows. It is fashionable to describe Chaplin as the greatest artist the screen has produced, although I feel myself such assessment overdoes the praise, even allowing I can think of no other movie actor who could hold an audience, as he did in "One A.M.," while being the only character in the picture.

Chaplin the great belonged to the pantomime age and he was then the screen's supreme genius, but his impact on celluloid art has been negligible since a sound track widened its possibilities. This recession may have been of his own choosing, or at least his own fault since he appears now in few films, and of course the competition is much greater nowadays. Screen acting in his heyday, himself apart, was crude compared to the subtleties of the best modern films.

Nevertheless I cannot imagine Charlie Chaplin letting himself down, nor do I fancy he will have cause to echo his daughter when he finishes his current cutting chore. He will have worthwhile substitutes, I wot, for the baggy pants and bowler hat I remember so well.

International Commentary . . .

Moscow Propaganda Conference

By W. N. EWER, From London

THIS international economic conference which has been meeting in Moscow is, I think, the strangest in my recollection. It is not a conference of governments or representatives of governments. It is not a conference of industrialists or of trade unionists or of economists. It was originally convened by a body which has taken to itself the title of "World Peace Council", a self-appointed body entirely under Communist control; but, as the World Peace Council became increasingly discredited as an instrument of the Cominform, the organizers of the conference showed some anxiety to conceal its connection with the council and 600 or so delegates were therefore invited in the name of an allegedly non-political "initiating committee". Oddly enough, about three-quarters of the members of this committee turned out to be also members of the World Peace Council.

The big majority of them come from Russia or satellite states or from Communist China—a sufficient number to ensure the passing of any resolutions which this solid bloc desires.

* * *

Ostensibly the Soviet government is not directly concerned but, apart from fares to Moscow—which are being provided somehow or other—is acting as "host". All invited delegates are being entertained without any cost to themselves or to any organization which they are purporting to represent. They have been staying at Moscow's newest workers' hostel, the Sovietskaya Hotel. Built, one must assume, for the toiling masses of the Soviet Union, it is—according to the London Communist newspaper—"the last word in comfort and convenience; with its own theatre, seating 800 people, and a restaurant where a dance orchestra plays daily until 3 a.m.". One enthusiastic delegate has described it as "gorgeous, and worthy of the Tsars". I know of no more eloquent, more justified tribute to the real nature of Stalinist Communism.

* * *

What is the purpose of it all? Why is the Soviet government spending many thousand pounds of money of the toiling masses of the Soviet Union in entertaining 600 delegates chosen by a Communist organization in a manner "gorgeous and worthy of the Tsars"?

If the object were genuinely the very laudable one of trying to develop or redevelop trade between the Soviet bloc and the outer world, one would have thought the sensible way of going about it would have been conversations with officials of the economic departments of other governments or with representatives of the big industrial and commercial organizations. But the invited delegates seem to have been carefully chosen so as to make sure there can be small practical results.

None of them has such a standing in relevant industries as to enable them to discuss with authority the making of any big scale contracts, either for buying or for selling. They have, indeed, announced an agreement with the Chinese delegation for the exchange of £10,000,000 worth of goods this year, but they have had to explain that, as private individuals, all they can do is use their "best endeavors" to see that the trade contemplated in the agreement is fulfilled. Nor has any one of the delegates (outside the Soviet area) any authority even to begin any sort of discussion on the part of any government.

* * *

The object, therefore, has not been trade. Equally obviously it has been propaganda. The keynote of the speeches from Soviet delegates has been that, but for the wickedness of the "Western" governments, there would be millions of pounds worth of Soviet and Chinese orders for "Western", and especially British industries. Mr. Nesterov of the Soviet Chamber of Commerce offers to buy millions of pounds worth of British textiles and to "solve the British textile crisis".

What childish nonsense it is. There is, in fact, nothing in the world to prevent the Soviet government, if it so wishes, from placing all the orders it wishes for British cotton and woolen goods tomorrow. But it does not do so. There is nothing in the world to prevent the Chinese government from doing so. But it prefers to make it impossible for British trading firms to do trade in China.

* * *

The Russian conference propagandists shout, can sell Britain much-needed timber. But when a few years ago we sent a cabinet minister to Moscow to do a deal, he was told there was no timber available unless we could first provide cutting machinery and the light railways for transport from forests to ports.

Czechoslovakia, before the Communist coup, did a big trade with the "West". It has, under Russian pressure, been cut to a minimum to the great disadvantage of the Czechs.

There are today—and it is a great pity—many barriers to trade between the "Soviet world" and the outer world. But by far the greater part of those barriers has been erected by the Soviet government and its satellites. If they were genuinely anxious to restore such trade they could do so. If the Moscow conference had been genuinely anxious to restore such trade, it should have addressed its resolutions in the first place to the Soviet and Chinese governments.

But that was not its purpose. It was not a genuine "economic conference" at all. It was merely, as its genesis shows, part of a Communist "peace campaign". And that, as all the world has begun to understand, is not a peace campaign but a hate campaign. The luxurious apartments of the Sovietskaya Hotel (into which no worker or peasant ever penetrates) have been the scene of what is simply another move in the Soviet's "cold war".

Cruel and Absurd

(From The Financial Post)

WASHINGTON should vote no new money for foreign aid this year, says the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and future appropriations should be held to less than half the present budget calls for. The chamber charges that an "international blackmail system" is developing around the foreign aid program and that foreign aid is being concealed by a "red tape curtain" which makes it difficult for private citizens to evaluate foreign policy.

There may be some grounds for honest criticism of President's Truman's foreign aid program. In a plan so vast, it would be a miracle if there have not been some waste and confusion. But coming at this particular time, the drastic and crippling slashes in foreign aid demanded by the chamber look very much like politics and a very disturbing kind of politics too.

* * *

In a public statement the chamber suggests bluntly that the United States is not only spending far too much on defense abroad but also far too much on defense at home. While highly critical of the percentage figures used by the U.S. government, it does not hesitate to use some most questionable percentage figures of its own.

It claims that the U.S. is spending a far greater proportion of its gross national production for defense (20%) than is Britain (12.8%), or France (11%), or Western Germany (10.5%).

It is difficult if not impossible to make a fair or accurate distinction for various countries between what is defense expenditure and what is non-defense. But even if we accept the proportions laid down by the chamber this claim ignores entirely the stark fact that Britain, France and Germany are still faced with colossal damages suffered in the last war. It ignores the fact that the United States came through the war with its economy strengthened and not impoverished. To suggest, as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce suggests, that the average citizen of Britain, France or Germany is actually better off than the average American is simply and cruelly absurd.

* * *

This blast is something we might expect to hear from an out-and-out isolationist candidate for the presidency. Coming from a body like the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, it will profoundly shock responsible opinion both in the United States and elsewhere.

The C. of C. officers responsible for this pronouncement may have been asleep to events of the past 35 years. Fortunately we don't think they represent intelligent business opinion.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

IN Canada we still think of highways in the personal sense. Possibly because we are a tourist nation and each of us fond of touring ourselves, our first thought on learning of a new highway being opened is of bowling along it in our private motor car. We do not primarily think of highways as commercial and industrial institutions, first and foremost.

But that is what they are. In addition to the enormous and increasing commercial traffic that boils along all our highways, a very considerable proportion of those private motor cars we see sharing the route with us are as commercial in every sense of the word as the trucks, lorries and giant haulage tractors that dominate the scene. It would be interesting to make a survey of the number of motor cars that belong to salesmen and others on business bent, in that endless stream of traffic every day of the week along the costly pavements.

It must be very gratifying to industry and commerce to see so many of us enjoying the highways in mere touring. If the figures could be worked out, industry would probably be very upset at having to pay a scientifically accounted share of the profit that accrues to it from the use of the highways. But it will be a long time yet before the average motorist protests the gasoline taxes and license fees which afford him the lovely highways which he can use at will, though he uses them actually very little. The average motorist spends nearly all his time right around home.

But where would you draw the line? We are all involved inextricably in commerce and industry. If the firms we work for do not themselves use the highways, at least we would have to pay more for the goods of those which do, should we demand a show-down and force industry to pay a bigger share of highway costs and maintenance. It is as broad as it's long.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO — Negotiations for the erection of a grain elevator at Ogden Point have been concluded, and the project is assured, provided the terms of the contract are endorsed by the ratepayers.

50 YEARS AGO—Mr. Thomas Hooper, the architect, is engaged on plans for a new five-story building for Mr. David Spencer, to replace the present Arcade.

85 YEARS AGO—Governor Seymour has chartered the Fraser River steamer Onward to carry a number of invited guests from New Westminster to Yale, whence the party will take the stage to Boston Bar.

Anscomb Sees Trend to Conservative Party

The trend among the people of Canada is toward Conservative government, according to Herbert Anscomb, party leader, addressing a combined meeting of the Oak Bay and Saanich Progressive Conservative Associations last night.

"Today we are in the amazing position of having people from all parts of the country wanting to carry the banner of the Conservative party," he said.

Reviewing the recent Coalition government in B.C.—"the only difference in the Coalition was over the hospital scheme"—he said the Coalition was the strongest government in B.C.'s history.

"The premier said he was glad the hospital plan was brought in by a Liberal. Well, frankly, so am I," he said.

"It is of tremendous importance to keep our credit sound," Mr. Anscomb said. He told the audience that he had been to New York last December to borrow $35,000,000 from U.S. banking interests.

"They asked me what kind of government we had here and when I told them it was a Coalition, they said, 'Is that some kind of union of parties?'" he said.

IN CHARGE NEXT

"I gave them my assurance that when the Coalition went out I'd be in charge of the next government anyway," he smiled.

The Conservative platform will be dealt with in convention in Vancouver on April 30, he told his listeners. "The platform will be one of sanity and common sense."

Dealing with the P.G.E. railway, he said, "The railway must be brought into North Vancouver. There is no question about that."

Mr. Anscomb also told the audience that he would not be in Victoria during the forthcoming provincial election. He would be moving throughout the province, helping some 47 other candidates, he said.

DICTATORSHIP

Outlining the other political parties in the present election contest he said, "No one can apply socialism without dictatorship. Hitler was elected by a democratic vote.

"I think the C.C.F. is fading out," he added, and said he did not understand social credit. "I don't think anyone can do any of you. There is no understanding social credit."

Later, in a question period, he said he did not approve of the government paying half the cost of schools.

Asked if he believed in co-insurance, he replied, "If we took off co-insurance, which brings in $2,500,000 yearly, who would pay that amount?"

"You would pay it yourselves," he said.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., also addressed the meeting. He said, "I am convinced there is the same trend here as in Eastern Canada, against continuation of the Liberal government."

The federal government seems to feel that no questions should be asked of it, he said. "We dare not drift into a one-party form of government because that leads to dictatorship.

"The federal government is adopting an attitude of 'who can stop us?' Well, the people can stop them."

General Pearkes reviewed governmental systems in Europe as he found them when he was there recently on United Nations business.

"People in Canada are saying there must be a change. We are sick to death of this Liberal government. The Conservatives are on the upgrade."

Dedication Set For Church

Dedication of the new $43,000 St. Barnabas' Church at Belmont and Begbie will be made on Sunday at 7.30 p.m. by Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia.

The new Anglican church replaces the old St. Barnabas' near Royal Athletic Park on Cook Street.

Built during the past six months on property purchased by the congregation, the church is of concrete block construction with a laminated truss roof.

Rev. E. Munn, rector, will meet the bishop at the entrance to the church for the dedication ceremony.

The address will be given by the rector.

Victoria Girl Tops Pianists

VANCOUVER, April 17—Eighteen-year-old Miss Patricia Shakespeare of 336 Irving Road, Victoria, today was declared winner in piano competition at the third convention of the B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association.

Miss Shakespeare, as the result of her victory, will go on a tour of western Canada for the organization in the fall.

Inter-Coast Shipping To Resume

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP)—Return of Atlantic-to-Pacific shipping services is planned to offset high rail rates from eastern Canada it was reported here today.

Two shipping services plan to revive the inter-coastal movement, discontinued during the war. Saguenay Terminals Limited of Montreal, a subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of Canada, and the Monsen - Clarke B.C. Limited plan to make experimental shipments in June and July.

In the last few months charter rates on vessels have dropped sharply, shippers reported here today.

DINNER MEETING SET

The Fairfield United Church Men's Club will hold its monthly dinner meeting Monday at 6.15 p.m.

J. F. Nimmo will give an illustrated address.

TO HEAR SPEAKER

A meeting of the St. John's Anglican Church Ladies' Guild will be held Monday at 2.30 p.m. There will be a guest speaker.

Mrs. E. Fraser Rites Monday

Funeral services for Elizabeth Fraser, 2240 Beach Drive, will be held from McCall Bros. Floral Funeral Chapel Monday at 3.15 p.m.

Mrs. Fraser died Tuesday. She was 91.

She is survived by four stepsons: Yolland, Loval, Lyon and Floyd Fraser in California; one stepdaughter, Miss Clara Fraser, Lakeport, California; her nephew, George Murdoch, 2240 Beach Drive, Victoria, and relatives in Scotland.

Dr. W. W. McPherson will conduct the services. Interment in the family plot, Ross Bay Cemetery.

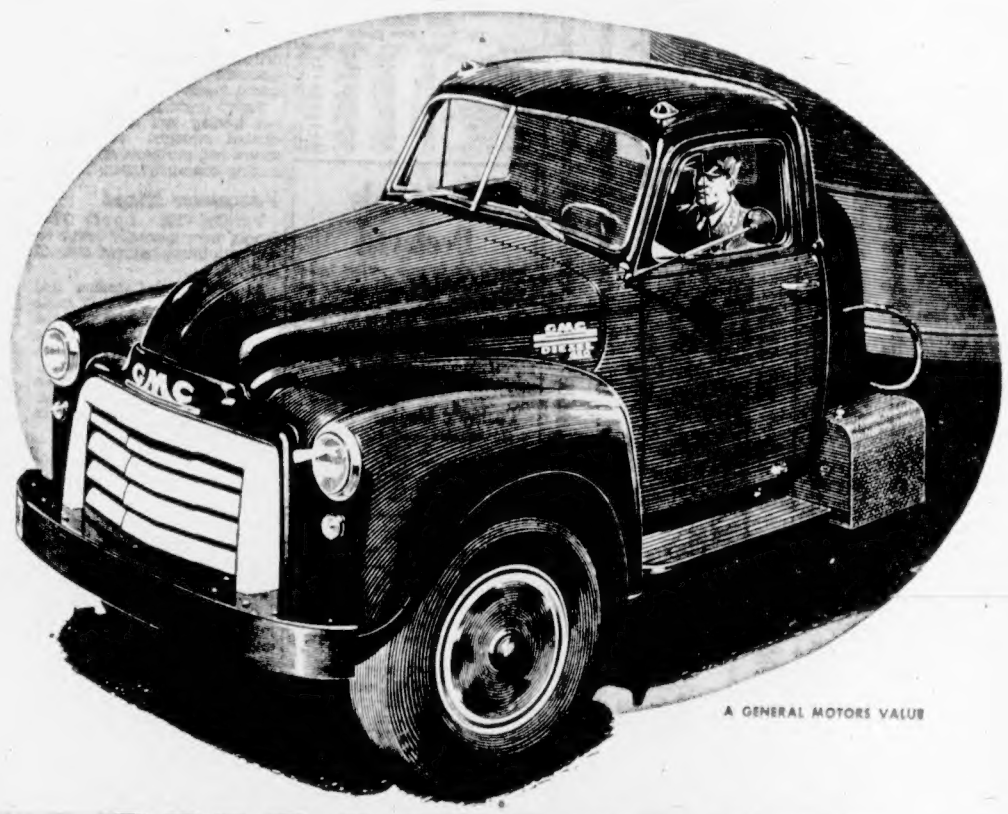
GMC PRESENTS A NEW
WELTERWEIGHT 2-CYCLE DIESEL



ANOTHER MAJOR MILESTONE IN HAULING PROGRESS

This new addition to the large range of GMC trucks is the Three-cylinder Diesel Engine. It brings all the economy of the famous GMC "Million-Miler" power to a large number of truck operators, and will save them more money every mile of operation.

HERE'S something every over-the-road hauler has long dreamed of—a smaller Diesel, light in weight, yet offering all the efficiency and economy of GMC's famous "Million-Milers". This new 3-cylinder Diesel brings all the proven advantages of General Motors 2-cycle design to the 35,000 pound combination weight class.

"Million-Miler" Engineering

GMC trucks now provide a complete range of two-cycle diesel engines from 110 H.P. to 225 H.P. with 3-, 4- and 6-cylinder engines for use in trucks from 19,500 to 120,000 lbs. Gross Combination Weight. These engines are all designed and built to run a million miles or more. Features like the automatic fuel modulator, the new 170° camshaft, Tocco-Hardened crankshafts, and many others combine to produce engines that have introduced a new era in low cost truck operation.

Diesel Pays Dividends

"MILLION-MILERS" will continue to pile up savings long after conventional engines are worn out. They're designed to go more miles than any truck you've ever owned, and to cut your fuel and maintenance costs by a wide margin. Yes, GMC diesel trucks are a natural for low cost per ton mile operation.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG, April 17 (CP).—Prices moved irregularly and generally lower in moderately active trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Trade reports said close to 2,500,000 bushels of Canadian barley had been sold for export, with Germany taking in excess of 2,000,000 bushels and The Netherlands 300,000. Other business was in the offing.

However, this business had only a minor affect on barley trading. Liberal offerings were about in line with the demand.

Move Brings Hope for Steel Industry

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

A hopeful move towards the establishment of a steel industry on the B.C. coast has been made in Vancouver this week by the announcement of a new company known as Western Canada Steel Ltd. The company has completed its provincial registration. It is to own all the common stock of Vancouver Steel Co.; Vancouver Rolling Mills Ltd. and Pacific Bolt Manufacturing Co., Ltd.

In this integrating movement, it is felt that a considerable step forward has been taken. C. D. Hobbs, managing director of the new company, says . . . that he has been in touch with Ottawa negotiating for the establishment of a steel industry here that would use B.C. iron ore.

Western Canada Steel will be owned by the former owners of the old companies together with a new group of B.C. industrialists. The three companies base their activities on scrap steel meantime, but are considering expansion by installing electric furnaces to smelt local iron ore.

In the past two years there has been considerable work done to increase proved reserves of local iron ore. While much of this has been successful, part of the increase has already been lost by the export of ore to Japanese refineries.

Most of this iron ore is on Vancouver Island, or on the Gulf Islands.

Ore from Quinsam Lake, near Campbell River is already being exported regularly to Japan, while a new ore body is being examined north of Upper Campbell Lake and near Bacon Lake. Farther north, nearly a 1,000,000 tons has been proved on the property of Quatsino Copper Company near Port Alice, while the biggest deposit of all may be on the west coast in the Zeballos area.

In addition to the coast iron ore, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. has millions of tons of magnetite ore in its tailings from the Kimberley and Sullivan mines.

CONSERVATIVE IMPERIAL

Shareholders of Imperial Oil Ltd., who may have hoped for something better in the shape of a dividend following the report of increased earnings in 1951, are meantime doomed to disappointment.

Yesterday Imperial Oil declared its semi-annual dividend at 35 cents, the same payment as it made last December. On the basis of the present market price of $37, the yield on Imperial Oil is 1.89 per c

Work on Curling Rink To Begin During June

Construction of Victoria's new $150,000 curling rink behind the Memorial Arena is expected to get under way about June 15, Max Zabel, president of the Victoria Curling Club said yesterday.

Plans should be completed in fact should be ready for the about a week and the final proj-curlers to take over sometime in October.

"It will be the finest rink west of Winnipeg," Mr. Zabel said.

The first ever to be built in Victoria, it will house eight curling sheets of ice and have accommodation for suitable clubrooms for men and women.

Four hundred active members of the club will be able to curl twice a week with the new accommodation, according to Mr. Zabel.

Floor Price On Beef Protested

A protest in the form of a petition against placing of a floor on beef prices was made by the Victoria branch of the Citizens' League yesterday to members of the provincial government.

The petition read, in part, as follows:

"We wish to make the strongest possible protest against the placing of a floor price on No. 1 steers of 25c 'on the hoof'. Twenty-five cent 'on the hoof' in Toronto means 34c per pound wholesale for a carcass of beef here, which would freeze wholesale and retail prices at present levels.

LET LAW ALONE

"We firmly believe that the law of supply and demand should be left alone.

"We are opposed to subsidies in any form.

"The outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease is being used as a 'red herring' in this instance, to get the government of B.C. to agree to something that 98 per cent of the people do not want."

The petition was directed to the minister of agriculture, provincial government. Presenting the protest were F. H. Partridge, chairman of the league, C. H. Cressy, R. B. Shaw and Mrs. Adelaide Marshall.

Band Leader Faces Driving Charge

TRENTON, N.J., April 17 (AP) — Band leader Fred Waring was arrested on a reckless driving charge here Wednesday night. Police said the 52-year-old television performer exceeded the city speed limit and almost forced a police car from the street. Waring posted a $50 bond for his appearance in court April 22.

Deputy Considering Booming Ground Plan

Will an approximate 10 acres of Selkirk Water (on the Gorge Road side) be used as a log storage ground?

An answer to this question will be provided shortly by George P. Melrose, B.C. deputy minister of lands, following yesterday's public hearing at which conflicting views on the proposal were presented.

The Selkirk Water area is being sought as a booming ground by British Columbia Forest Products Ltd. while strong opposition has been raised by auto court operators in the same area.

The timber concern claims the additional booming area is needed in the interests of local industry. The auto court personnel, stressing the value of the tourist industry to this area, claimed the storage of great log booms in the water way would have serious, unfavorable repercussions on the visitor industry.

It was also noted plans were now being made to develop upper reaches of the Gorge and the Portage Inlet district. Log booms filling Selkirk Water would provide serious obstacles to navigation of all types to and from the inland seaway, they suggested.

The timber interests are seeking to obtain a lease of the 9.7 acres of waterway involved. Such an arrangement would be made with the provincial government.

The hearing concluded late yesterday afternoon, with chairman Mr. Melrose asking for condensed written statements from both parties.

His decision in the case will be announced "after I have had sufficient time to make a careful study of the papers."

Tyees Help Publicize Rodeo

Some of Victoria Tyees took time out recently to co-operate with publicity director of annual California Rodeo, which is to be held at Salinas in June. Cameraman persuaded manager Cec Garriott, first-baseman Dick Bartle, and southpaw Ben Lorino (left to right) to feed familiar figure of Ferdinand the Bull with grass plucked from Salinas park where Tyees trained. Ferdinand, who comes out of mothballs at this time each year to advertise rodeo, boasts five-foot spread of horns and is imposing in his setting in front of car. Tyees left Salinas Tuesday after more than three weeks of training for Redding, where they have won both exhibition games played. They open W.I.L. season in Yakima next Tuesday.

Four-Team Tussle for Championship Forecast for Men's Softball League

That familiar cry of "play ball" will ring out over Central Park on Sunday, May 4, as the four clubs in the Victoria Senior "A" Men's Softball League usher in the 1952 season.

Only team missing from last year's loop will be Blue Bird Cabs, with Butler's Aces, B.C. Forest Products, Chinese Students and the defending-champion Pitzer & Nex squad forming a strong circuit.

Opening game of the schedule pits Butler's Aces, winner of the city playoffs last year, against B.C. Forest Products.

All teams are reported fast rounding into shape with practices well attended.

PALMER COACHES CHAMPS

Pitzer & Nex will open the season with a new coach in the person of Red Palmer. Palmer has been out of the softball picture for the past two years but has seen action with Timber Service and Army, Navy, Air Force Vets in his playing days. Jim Lackie will be back as manager.

Several of last year's players, including Ray Byers, Ab Weibe, Vic Dale, Chick Newman, Les Wilson and Toad Garnet, have been attending practices as well as several newcomers.

McLELLAN RETURNS

Rosy McLellan will again handle the reins for Butler's Aces. Most of last year's players have been attending work-outs although several new faces have been noticed.

John Furmston, regarded by many as the outstanding pitcher in the league last year, and Archie Sluggett will form the nucleus of the mound staff. McLellan also hopes to add a lefty to round out his pitching corps.

Hal Yardley, Phil, Bill and Ron Bean, Whitey Turner, Gus Hilton and Dale Kilshaw are the veterans returning to action, with Ray Brookbank, last year with Blue Bird Cabs, and Dan Glancy the first-year men with the club.

LACK CATCHER

Catching appears to be the main problem of the Chinese Students. Coach Gar Taylor has had most of last year's members attending the workouts, but reports he could use several more players. The catching berth is wide open with the retirement of Gordie Chow and Taylor has not found a suitable replacement to fill the vacated position.

Henry Wong, a "windmill" hurler from Nanaimo has been added to the pitching staff and Ed Lou and Bernie Sam have moved up from Senior B ranks.

Players returning from last year's aggregation include Jim John, Don Robinson, Bung Der, Quinton Mar, Tom Derr, Toy Marr, Charlie McKay and Jim Chan.

ROSS HEADS LUMBERMEN

B.C. Forest Products will also begin the season with a new coach. Bud Ross, star pitcher with the club last year, has taken over as coach with Wally Smith remaining as manager.

Ross was noncommittal about his club, but stated that every position was wide open. He expects better results from the team this year than the one that finished fourth last season.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Whether or not Victoria hockey fans saw Roger Leger on their side for the last time Wednesday night is a question that only time will answer. Leger left for Saskatoon with the Cougars yesterday without any indication from owner Lester Patrick that he did—or did not—figure in plans for next season. And Patrick has neither confirmed or denied repeated rumors that the big defenseman would not be back.

While there has been nothing definite on which to base the assumption, this writer has felt for some time that a coaching change is in prospect for next season. If this is correct, it is difficult to state just what effect on plans the late drive of the Cougars to a playoff berth and their subsequent fine post-season play has had. Certainly, things have improved for Leger during the past few weeks and he will be holding some trumps if his club should go on to defeat the Quakers in the P.C.H.L. final.

It may be, however, that a change will be made in any event. The past season, while financially successful, was only saved at the last minute by the post-season enthusiasm of some fortunately-excellent playoff hockey. There is every indication that the Cougars will be completely rebuilt for the 1952-53 campaign and the changes will in all probability include a new coach.

That, of course, is the problem of the management, which must certainly be conceded the right to choose its own personnel. That it is not likely to make changes that will hurt goes without saying. Victoria has proved to be a hockey bonanza and it would indeed be silly to believe for a moment that the management would knowingly do anything to change that.

However, it goes without saying, too, that most fans will be sorry if "Big Rog" is among the missing next October. It may be argued that he is more of an inspirational leader than a coach and that he lacked the ability to handle and get along with his players but this is strictly a matter of opinion. There can be no argument but that he is, and always will be, as great a competitor as anyone will watch in a lifetime. He made his mistakes but never the mistake of not trying. And whether it was only because of his personal contribution in a playing way or not, his record as a coach is a good one. He won everything last season with a club which was actually not the best in the league and this season he has done at least as well as could be expected with a club which may have finished higher than it rated. Wherever he is next season, Victorians will wish him well but if he's not here they probably have a secret hope that he won't be an opponent. He'll still be tough to beat.

Random Harvest

Roger Leger has no objection to coming back to Victoria but hopes to stay with the Montreal Canadiens' organization if he doesn't. It is no dream to believe he might even wind up with another P.C.H.L. club. New Westminster's Kenny MacKenzie has stated more than once he would like to have Leger and he would be a "natural" for Coley Hall's Canucks if Hugh Currie is not available. . . Everyone connected with sports in any way was sorry to hear of the unfortunate accident to Red McMillan, as popular an athlete as Victoria has had. His loss to his various clubs is a big one but the important thing is that he makes a complete recovery. Jim Hedgecock, who will do his pitching for the Vancouver Capilanos this season, is the recent father of twins and has not reported as yet. . . Montreal Canadiens may have the coming team in the N.H.L. but it would appear that the Detroit Red Wings are already there. . . Guelph Biltmores, current favorites to win the Memorial Cup, have plenty of scoring punch. They rapped in 341 goals in 54 league games in the Junior O.H.A. this season. Incidentally, the Biltmores are accused of having improved their cup chances by some shrewd hockey shenanigans. It is claimed that Ray Ross, who performed for Seattle Ironmen in three games this season, was asked to turn pro so that Guelph could add a better player under the C.A.H.A. rule which allows a replacement for any players who sign a pro contract during the season. Ross refused to sign and was subsequently suspended and Biltmores picked up Ron Stewart, Barrie defenseman who is rated one of the best pro prospects in junior hockey.

GUESSING DEPARTMENT: Giants, Phillies, Reds and Cards in the National League and Yanks, Indians, A's and White Sox in the American. Batting average to date: At bat 191, hits 123, percentage .644.

United Coach Nominated For Trophy

Wally Milligan, Victoria United coach, is the fourth Victorian to be nominated for the Sid Thomas Memorial Trophy.

M. Barron, 516 Rithet Street, chose Milligan for being "instrumental in sparking soccer from the doldrums to prominence in the city, by his untiring efforts, soccer skill and his ability to get the most out of his colleagues at all times."

Milligan joins Doug Fletcher, Dick Ellis and Archie McKinnon as candidates for the award, which is given annually to the person who has contributed the most to amateur athletics in Victoria during the sports year from April 1 to March 31.

Selection of the trophy winner will be made by a panel of three judges from information contained in the letters. The writer of the best letter will receive two season tickets to home games of the Victoria Tyees. The winning letter does not have to be about the person ultimately chosen for the award.

EAGLES TO WORK OUT

All members of last season's Eagles Baseball Club and any others interested are asked to attend a workout at Windsor Park Sunday at 10. Doug Peden has agreed to help with coaching duties.

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Brooklyn and Cleveland careened along on 17-hit binges today but the spunky St. Louis Browns made five hits stand up for a third straight victory over Detroit.

SHANTZ STOPS YANKS

Little Bobby Shantz and the Philadelphia A's knocked off the world-champion New York Yankees, 3-1, beating Eddie Lopat; Cleveland packed a 425-foot homer by Luke Easter into its 17-hit attack to whip Chicago, 5-3, and rookie Faye Throneberry hit a grand-slam home run in Boston's 9-2 win over Washington in other American League action.

Brooklyn continued to murder Boston pitching, boosting its club batting mark to .378 by overpowering the Braves, 8-2. Johnny Schmitz Chuck Dressen's third straight lefty starter, went all the way for a seven-hitter.

HOMER BEATS GIANTS

Connie Ryan slashed a two-run homer in the 11th inning for the Phillies' 5-3 margin over the New York Giants in a Polo Grounds thriller. A spectacular bare-handed catch by Del Ennis of Willie May's long smash to left saved reliefer Jim Konstanty from serious trouble in the 10th.

Pittsburgh took advantage of sloppy fielding and base-running by St. Louis to salvage the last of a three-game series, 5-3. Southpaw Joe Muir, up from Indianapolis was the winner.

Kenny Raffensberger, always a "shoo in" against Chicago, did it again by pitching Cincinnati to a five-hit, 3-0, victory over the Cubs.

The Brownies used the late inning home run weapon to ruin Newhouser, making his first start since last July. The 30-year-old lefthander, troubled by a sore arm, was fairly effective until the eighth.

Shantz, smallest pitcher in the league, beat the Yanks two ways with his pitching and hitting. He scattered nine hits and gave the A's their lead run with a fourth-inning single.

MIKE GETS GOOD START

Mike Garcia started after another 20-win season with a seven-hitter for Cleveland. Despite the 17 hits, the Indians had only a one-run lead going to the ninth.

The rookies had a field day in the Red Sox romp over Weshington. Bill Henry, a newcomer from Shreveport, was the winning pitcher. When he needed help, Ivan Delock, another rookie, came in to work the ninth. Freshmen Ted Lepcio, Sam White, Henry and Throneberry drove in eight of the nine runs.

DODGER POWER

Carl Furillo, Andy Pafko and Jackie Robinson led the Dodger attack. Furillo had four singles, Pafko a homer and double and Robinson reached base five times on three singles, a walk and being hit by a pitched ball. The debut of towering Gene Conley, Boston's six-foot-eight recruit was disappointing. He gave up 11 hits and four runs before he retired in the fifth.

Classy Fight Card Lists 12 Bouts and Top Talent

Inter-city competition will highlight the Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association card at the Bay Street Armory tomorrow night.

Twelve bouts are scheduled on the program and in each one a Victoria youngster will engage an out-of-town fighter. Five Vancouver and five Alberni boxers will supply the opposition. Two bouts are yet to be arranged.

Among the visiting boxers are Bobby Shires of Vancouver, the B.C. bantamweight champion, Norm McLeod of Vancouver, B.C. "Silver Boy," and Jack Schroeder, Vancouver "Silver Boy." Schroeder, a 106-pounder, came to Canada in 1948 after spending four years in an internment camp during the war.

Paul Calvey, rated as one of Victoria's brightest prospects, will oppose Shires in one of the main attractions. The other feature pits Esquimalt's Bert Wilkinson against Vancouver's Garry Sullivan in a middleweight contest.

The program will start at 8.

Bouts already arranged follow:

118 pounds—Bobby Shires (Vancouver) vs. Paul Calvey (Esquimalt).
160 pounds—Bert Wilkinson (Esquimalt) vs. Garry Sullivan (Vancouver).
140 pounds—Kerwin Johnson (James Bay) vs. Bob Rumney (Alberni).
112 pounds—Bernie Hamilton (Alberni) vs. Bobby Thomsett (Esquimalt).
80 pounds—Jim Moody (Police Club) vs. Norm McLeod (Vancouver).
75 pounds—Jackie Shires (Vancouver) vs. Rusty Gropp (St. Louis College).
Other bouts are Billy Hamilton (Alberni) vs. George McGaw (Esquimalt), Brian O'Hara (St. Louis College) vs. Jerry Dilder (Alberni); Don Tremblay (Alberni) vs. Terry Haines (Esquimalt).
106 pounds—Dave Bruce (Esquimalt) vs. Jack Schroeder (Vancouver).

Yugoslav Net Stars Decide Not to Return

ROME, April 17 (AP)—Yugoslavia's two star tennis players, Dragutin Mitic, 34, and Milan Branovic, 26, said today they have decided not to return to their Communist homeland.

They made their announcement to newspaper men covering the International Tennis tournament here.

"We are not in accord with the Yugoslav government, and we have decided not to return," Branovic said.

Jaroslav Drobny, another international ace, left Czechoslovakia under similar circumstances a few years ago. Willie Sopnecky, who with Drobny also is competing here, is a self-exile from Poland.

Practices Set For Minor Lacrosse Clubs

Schedules for practices in the junior divisions of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association were released by league officials last night.

Pee Wees will work out from 9.00 to 10.30 on Saturday morning at Stevenson Park. All players from Oak Bay, Saanich, Fernwood and Fairfield are asked to attend.

All players from Esquimalt will practice from 10.30 to 12.30 on Saturday morning.

Victoria Pee Wees will work out on Tuesday at 3.15 with the Juvenile B's holding a practice at 6 the same day.

Bantams will work out on Wednesday at 3.15. All workouts will be held at Stevenson Park. Players are asked to attend as the teams will be selected from these practices.

BOOSTERS TO MEET

The Victoria Tyees Booster Club will hold a general meeting at the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Hall, 1001 Wharf Street.

Esquimalt to Foster Minor Lacrosse

Officials who will organize the Esquimalt Lacrosse Association were elected at a meeting of parents of prospective players last night.

A. Dickey was elected president while J. Cornthwaite was named secretary, and D. Ryan, treasurer. C. Walton, J. P. O'Brien, W. Fisher, A. Lowen and V. Venn were chosen as committee members.

More than 100 youngsters from the Esquimalt district have announced that they wish to play lacrosse with the association, which will work in conjunction with the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association.

The Municipality of Esquimalt has advanced $1,000 towards construction of a permanent box, which will cost approximately $2,500. Additional funds will be raised by a canvass of Esquimalt business men.

All boys more than 10 years of age who wish to play are asked to report to the Fraser Street Hall tonight at 6 to give the committee a definite indication of how many players are interested.

Joe Bryant will coach boys from 10 to 13 years of age, and has called the first practice for tomorrow morning at Stevenson Park at 10.30.

Wing Aces Hold Prize

Terry Sawchuk, left, starry goaltender, and captain Sid Abel of Detroit Red Wings clutch historic Stanley Cup, emblematic of world professional hockey championship after Wings defeated Montreal Canadiens, 3-0, in final game of best-of-seven series. Sawchuk had four shutouts as Detroit won championship in record eight straight games. He blanked Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens twice each. Sport

United Set for Firemen; U.S. Team to Play Here

Vancouver Firefighters will find Victoria United at full strength at Royal Athletic Park tomorrow afternoon when the two clubs clash in a crucial Coast Soccer League match.

George Eade, president and manager of the Victoria club, announced after last night's workout that every player was in good condition and that his club would stick with the line-up which looked impressive in the 2-0 win over St. Andrews two weeks ago.

SWITCH RETAINED

Bill Hope is the other fullback in front of goalie Bill McAllister. John Pickburn and Sid Robbins will be in their usual spots at right and centre half, respectively. Cedric Robb will be at right wing with Stan Bob at inside, while Bernie Clarkson starts at left wing. Noel Morgan, Jack Strachan and Franz Lohner will be available for relief duty.

FIREMEN NEED WIN

Tomorrow's match is extremely important to both clubs. Defeat would eliminate Firemen from second-half contention while victory would almost assure United the right to meet North Shore, first-half winners, for the league title. Two points would leave the Islanders in a position of needing only a draw with trailing Vancouver City next week to beat out New Westminster Royals. Royals are four points behind with a match in hand and can get nothing better than a tie if United wins one of its remaining two matches.

Boasting two successive shutouts in league play, including a 3-0 win over Firemen three weeks ago, United is confident of victory although Austin Delany's crew, with the always-dangerous Dave Brown and Frank Ambler giving it a real one-two punch, cannot be taken lightly.

Tomorrow's match winds up league play although the season is far from over with Province Cup and, possibly, Dominion Football Cup play yet to start.

SAN FRANCISCO VISIT

In addition to cup ties, Victoria fans will have the opportunity of watching the San Francisco All-Stars in action here against United. Eade announced last night that he has been successful in his efforts to bring the Bay City side here for an exhibition match on Sunday, May 11. The San Francisco team plays Vancouver All-Stars on May 10.

Site of the match has yet to be set with Eade hopeful he can obtain the use of Royal Athletic Park. Further particulars will be announced as soon as possible.

Legion Meets Esquimalt In Semi-Final

Victoria West's opponent in the final of the Lower Island Province Cup series will be decided Sunday when Esquimalt and Legion tangle in a semi-final match.

The game will be played at the Lower Beacon Hill pitch at 2.30.

Wests advanced into the final by edging Civil Service, 1-0, two weeks ago.

The eventual Lower Island winner will meet the Up-Island survivor for the right to advance to the provincial quarter-finals with the Coast Soccer League teams and the lower mainland winner.

Bowlers Plan Night

Approximately 400 Victoria fivepin bowlers are expected to attend the first annual Esquimalt Bowladrome banquet and dance, to be held at the Club Sirocco this evening.

The banquet will be held at 7 while the dancing will follow at 9.30.

Aces Score; Beliveau Gets Three

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 17 (CP)—Quebec Aces, never behind in the game, tonight downed Saint John Beavers 4-1 in the Alexander Trophy final opener.

More than 4,000 fans jammed the Saint John Forum for the start of the major hockey series.

The series is being played on the point system—two points for a win and one for a tie. Only one 10-minute overtime period will be played.

The first team to win eight points will take the cup.

Highly-publicized Jean Beliveau shot a goal in each period, Yogi Kraiger counting the other in the first. Ron Hurst, assisted by Howie Lee, saved Saint John from a shutout late in the first stanza.

It was a heavy bumping contest with 16 penalties, including a misconduct to Marcel Bonin of Quebec.

D.F.A. Claims Soccer Final To Be Played

WINNIPEG, April 17 (CP)—George Anderson of Winnipeg, secretary of the Dominion Football (Soccer) Association, today said the D.F.A. is not considering abandoning playoffs this year.

He was commenting on a Vancouver report in which League Secretary Horace Lear said "Coast League teams feel the D.F.A. series costs more money than it is worth," and D.F.A. officials were considering dropping the playoffs for at least a year in view of West Coast sentiments.

"There's been no such talk by the D.F.A.," Anderson said. "That appears to be only Lear's opinion."

He said a statement on playoff arrangements will be released from the Winnipeg office around the end of the month, when some of the top D.F.A. officials return from Great Britain.

Young Fill-In Gives Champ Chess Trouble

LONDON, April 17 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Keith Stanley, who taught himself chess from textbooks two years ago, held off the world's Number Two player for five hours in a match that started as just a joke.

Russia's David Bronstein, who ranks second in world competition took on 21 chess players in a mass game. The 14-year-old sat in to pad out the lineup and to see what would happen.

The other 20 opposing Bronstein fell quickly by the wayside but after two hours the boy had exchanged two pieces without giving away any advantage.

"I offered Bronstein a draw at the 40th move but he said 'no'", Stanley related later.

For three more hours the duel went on. Bronstein took off his glasses, wiped his head with a handkerchief and plotted each play carefully until he finally forced Stanley to give up.

"The boy," Bronstein said, "is very good."

Stanley said he didn't really like chess. "I prefer playing cricket."

Golf— Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Here's good golf form except for one point which I leave to you for the moment. This is a full shot with wood so the ball is played well forward. Notice that this player's hands are high. They bisect the distance between the back of his head and right shoulder. This is all to the good. The bad point here is that he has overswung! Did you notice it? But his right side is straight as it should be. His right leg is straight too, but the knee is not locked. That's right. His left knee has moved in toward his right and his raised left heel keeps his knees even. That prevents left side sag. He has a good firm grip on the ground with his left toe. This player has kept his eyes on the ball. He has made a full shoulder pivot so that the back of his shoulders "faces" the hole and he's made a complete hip pivot. Now he's all ready to go! And let's hope that overswing doesn't spoil his shot.

Bowling Title To Five Dimes In Civic Loop

Five Dimes captured the championship round of the City Hall Fivepin Bowling League in a roll-off at Esquimalt Bowladrome recently by posting a three-fame total of 2,606. Sundries were runners-up with 2,549, while Chumps rolled 2,490.

The consolation round was taken by Eccentrics with a total score of 2,615.

Elwood Gropp and Joyce Fraser topped the season's averages for the third successive year. Gropp finished with a 207 average, while Mrs. Fraser had a 171 average.

High three-game honors went to Gropp with 819, while Dan Pretty took the high single mark with a 337. Team honors were shared by Lucky Strikes with a 2,802 three-game total and Pretty's Punks with a 1,056 single game.

Back in July?

Monte Irvin, star outfielder of New York Giants, appears thoroughly incapacitated in above picture as he rests in hospital studying X-ray pictures of ankle he broke in exhibition game. Expected to be out for balance of season and with his baseball career in doubt, Irvin received cheery news yesterday. Complete examination disclosed tendons were not completely torn. They were sewn together yesterday and Irvin is now expected to be able to play again in July.

Maxim Demands Hold Up Plans for Robinson Fight

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, who sweetened his world's middleweight championship by melting Rocky Graziano in three rounds at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, was being pursued today to accept a match with Joey Maxim, world's light-heavyweight champion.

The bout, if made, is scheduled to be held either in New York's Yankee Stadium, probably June 25, or in Chicago.

Robinson, with his manager, George Gainford, was offered the match at a meeting attended by Jack Kearns, Maxim's manager; Truman Gibson, secretary of the sponsoring International Boxing Club, and Harnes D. Norris, president of the I.B.C.

Robinson bolted the meeting and returned to his hotel, saying that Kearns "wanted all the money."

"I might take the match if they talk the right terms," Robinson added.

Gainford said, "We cannot afford to pass up a payday like that."

The exact attendance of the standing room crowd at the stadium Wednesday night became more of a controversy than ever today. At first the I.B.C. announced that the count was 23,785, a world's indoor record. Later an official count by the Illinois State Athletic Commission said the crowd was 22,624.

Today the commission, pechecking its figures, announced the gross attendance was 23,361, still an indoor record. The commission check said the paid attendance was 21,685, plus 1,876 officials, newspaper and radio reporters and television technicians.

The actual gross gate and net figures also were in dispute. The I.B.C. reported the gross gate at $255,438 and the net of $196,789.75. The commission figures placed the gross at $257,178.88 and the net at $197,825.29.

The stadium indoor record of 23,322 was set when King Levinsky won a four-round exhibition from Jack Dempsey in 1932.

Remember When . .

A crowd of 16,218 at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens saw the Maple Leafs beat Detroit Red Wings 3-1 to climax an amazing comeback in the Stanley Cup final, 10 years ago today. After losing the first three games, Toronto won four in a row to capture the world's professional hockey championship. This year they lost to Detroit four straight in the semi-finals.

Esquimalt Athletic Association senior B men's softball team will work out Sunday at Bullen Park at 10.30. The Fraser Street Hall will be used if the weather or grounds are unsuitable.

Speaks Today

RALPH BAKER

President of the Standard Oil Company of British Columbia, will address the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in the Empress Hotel at noon today. New president of the chamber, T. G. Denny, will be officially installed by Mayor Claude Harrison during the luncheon. George Wheaton will be installed as vice-president.

Col. Gibson Re-Elected President of Cancer Society

Lieut.-Col. J. Nelson Gibson was re-elected president of the Victoria unit of the Canadian Cancer Society at the sixth annual meeting of the society last night.

Dr. H. M. Edmison, director of radiology at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, outlined the work done by the Canadian Cancer Society, and the great amount of money needed to continue the never-ending fight against one of the greatest killers of today.

Research, education and aid to those suffering from the dread disease are three of the main functions of the society, he said.

Much of the equipment purchased for and facilities provided by cancer institutions is paid for by the society.

The aid given to cancer sufferers, he said, was of a most practical nature.

Costs of home nursing or visiting housekeeper services are defrayed as much as possible, and the cost of transportation to and from the treatment centres is met by the society.

Special care is provided to those in the terminal stages of the disease, and in exceptional cases, special arrangements are made to supply additional help to sufferers.

He then outlined work done by personnel in cancer clinics.

How surgeons, pathologists and radio therapists all work as a team in the diagnosis and treatment of the disease was explained by Dr. Edmison in detail.

Following his address he answered questions relating to the disease and the function of the society.

Col. Nelson Gibson then asked the members for their support in raising additional funds to put the cancer campaign over the top.

"The campaign will continue until the end of this month," he said, "and anyone wishing to contribute can contact us at the campaign headquarters on Courtney Street."

The following officers and directors were re-elected:

Dr. Murray Anderson and Col. J. Q. Gillan, O.B.E., vice-presidents; Major W. C. Roberts, secretary-treasurer; Miss J. M. Clay, Dr. H. M. Edmison, Dr. J. L. Gayton, Alderman F. G. Mulliner, Mrs. O. B. Ormond, Mrs. P. W. Smoothy, Mrs. D. Watson and Dr. I. Tchaperoff, directors.

Past Leaders Tell Club Of Projects

The five-year history of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club was reviewed by its past presidents at a fifth anniversary dinner last night.

Charles Mann, James Magarth, C. Annett, Roy Johnson and A. Songhurst described the projects accomplished by the club during their terms of office.

Furnishing of the new juvenile home, purchase of playground equipment and construction of the pavilion at Willows Beach were among the accomplishments described.

Through the revenue realized by the club from the Willows Beach pavilion and the summer evening square dancing in the park, other parks in the municipality benefited to a great extent by the installation of new equipment, members were told.

About 60 members attended the dinner meeting, held in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

P.C.'s in City Meet May 1 To Nominate

Choice of three Progressive Conservative candidates for the Victoria riding in the coming provincial election will take place Thursday, May 1 at the Sirocco Supper Club.

Names of A. B. deB. McPhillips, Mrs. R. Robert Harvey, Reginald Hayward and Walter Miles will go before the Victoria Provincial Progressive Conservative convention on that date.

Conservative Leader Herbert Anscomb will address the convention.

Only ward delegates will be permitted to vote but all Conservatives are asked to attend.

Screen Process Has Long History

The screen process of reproduction has existed in one form or another for 2,000 years, D. Genn told a meeting of the Printing House Craftsmen in the Olde England Inn last night.

He explained modern refinements and developments in silk screen methods, then showed a film illustrating methods of using the screen process.

Withy Shipyards Get Navy Work

The Withy Shipyards, on Gabriola Island off Nanaimo, will build two 75-foot harbor craft for the Royal Canadian Navy.

Capt. C. L. Hinchcliffe, R.C.N., principal overseer for new ship construction on the Pacific Coast, will leave Victoria this morning for the Gulf Island boatyard to arrange contract details.

Two similar craft will be built at the Star Shipyards of New Westminster.

Legal Expert Dies in Britain

LONDON, April 17 (Reuters) — Lord Greene, 69, one of Britain's foremost legal experts, died last night. He was a former master of the rolls, responsible for maintaining the national office of legal records. As such he ranked after the lord chief justice and the lord chancellor. He held the post from 1937 to 1949. He was also president of the chancery division of the High Court of Justice.

Training Drills Break Pace of Ship's Return

BY MICHAEL GIRAUD
(News Division, CKWX, Vancouver)

ABOARD H.M.C.S. ONTARIO. —Swaying palms and golden beaches of Hawaii are fast being left behind as this big Canadian cruiser knifes her way on the second leg of her spring training cruise. Next stop will be San Francisco. After spending several days in the Golden Gate port she will head for home.

There are times, however, when speeds are reduced considerably to allow continuation of an extensive training program. Seamen, midshipmen and junior officers have been studying and working like proverbial Trojans. They have been participating in communications, gunnery, boat drills and other exercises. The job of training officers is being capably handled by Lieut.-Cmdr. E. P. Shaw, of Victoria.

Business is booming in the ship's canteen. Tuesday was payday and well over $1,000 had been spent for cigarettes, soap, magazines, chocolate bars and other items.

Lieut. R. D. Fulton, of Victoria, supervises the centre, assisted by Able Seamen Theo Kashrick and John Jacob.

Aid Post Increase Planned

With the hope of saving more lives on B.C. highways this year, the St. John Ambulance Association will establish 12 more highway first aid posts, if the present campaign for funds is successful.

M. J. Foley, campaign chairman for the organization, said recently the group will require at least $100,000 if this plan is to be realized.

The first highway aid station was established by St. John Association in 1936, and since that time they have put 14 more into operation.

Highway accidents took 208 lives in this province last year, Mr. Foley said, and there would have been more deaths had it not been for the work of St. John workers.

The group administered first aid to 6,624 persons injured on B.C. highways last year.

"In many cases of serious injury, it was prompt attention in the first few minutes that meant the difference between life and death," Mr. Foley said.

Trucks fitted with stretchers, blankets, splints and other equipment, operating from stores and service stations, and other strategic locations on the highways, are ready to answer any distress call at a moment's notice.

In addition to handling traffic mishaps, the station personnel answer emergency calls for a wide variety of accidents in their districts.

For those wishing to send contributions by mail, the campaign headquarters address is 518 West Hastings, Vancouver, B.C.

Freight Rate Study Planned

A committee of B.C. industrialists will be asked by the provincial government to study proposed reductions in freight rates.

The federal Board of Transport Commissioners has ordered railway to cut their rates by about 5 per cent, which would mean a saving of $7,000,000 a year to Western Canada.

B.C. Men Study Drug Hospitals

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP).—Observations made at North America's only two drug addiction hospitals are going into a report being prepared today by three B.C. men assigned to gather information to help establish a "pilot treatment" centre for British Columbia drug addicts.

The three-man survey party spent five days at the world-famed United States Public Health Service Hospital in Lexington, Ky., and one day at Riverside Hospital in New York City.

The report of Dr. A. E. Davidson, Essondale psychiatrist, Dr. C. B. Watson, Essondale psychologist, and E. G. B. Stevens, provincial probation officer and inspector of jails, will reach Attorney-General Gordon Wismer in Victoria about the middle of next week.

In New York, the B.C. men toured the new Riverside Hospital which will open July 1 to treat about 150 youthful addicts from within New York City. The group interviewed Dr. Jerome L. Leon, Riverside medical superintendent.

"We can say that we got many good ideas from the trip despite the fact that conditions down there are quite different to what is encountered in B.C.," said Mr. Stevens.

Optimists Complete Plans for Hobby Show

Final plans for the Victoria Optimist Club annual hobby show to be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were completed at a luncheon meeting at the Pacific Club yesterday.

Charles Hallett is in charge of newspaper advertising; Albert Lyle, radio; George Gordon, appointment of judges and personnel to open the show; Ted Baker, signs and bumper cards; Harry Rennie, refreshments; Jack Cox and Jack Brown, insurance; Stanley Janes, commissionaires; Wynne Campbell, building materails; Dave Lewis, cartage; and Fred Tanner and Graham McCall, work parties.

On Thursday the annual meeting of the club and the election of officers for 1952 will be held in the Pacific Club.

Nominated for president is Charles Hallett; for vice-president, Jack Cox, John Robertson, Stanley Jarvis, Ian Anderson, Edward Knowlton and Karl Brietschmidt.

Mrs. Hodges To Give Talk

Hon. Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Speaker of the House, will be guest speaker at the banquet of the 41st conference of the B.C. Library Association to be held in Victoria on May 4 and 5, officials at the Victoria Public Library announced yesterday.

Registration for the conference will be handled at the library on May 4 from 3.30 to 5.30 p.m. More than 150 members are expected to attend.

On Sunday, May 4, the topic under discussion will be the Pacific National Library Association library development program.

On Monday, May 5, there will be a general business meeting to be followed by a banquet to be held in the Monterey Restaurant.

TRUTONE WHITE

"The Paint that Cleans itself"

TRUTONE White is intensely white to start with. And it STAYS WHITE — year after year — because it actually cleans itself . . . keeps your house free from ugly stains and grime.

TRUTONE White is a dollar-saver, too. Because of its extra hiding power, one coat covers as well as two coats of ordinary paint. That means less paint, less work, lower painting costs . . . and its exceptional durability is a plus value that saves you more paint dollars.

C-I-L Prepared PAINT

You can rely on C-I-L PAINTS for lasting beauty and stout resistance to wear and weather. Their uniform high quality, their long life, their exceptional coverage make them so much more economical than ordinary paints.

Painters know that C-I-L PAINTS are easy to apply . . . flow smoothly from the brush . . . thus saving extra dollars in time and labour. Your choice of 24 colours (also black and tinting white) which will retain their fresh brightness long after inferior paints have faded.

— and for Outside Trim
DULUX Exterior Trim Enamel

An exceptionally tough, lustrous enamel specially made for door and window frames and other outside trim. Fast-drying lessens risk of spotting from insects, dust, etc. Made in 6 popular colours (and black) which hold their colour and gloss far longer than ordinary paints or enamels.

C-I-L PAINTS

DULUX Super White ENAMEL
The WHITEST of all enamels

DULUX Super White Enamel is brilliantly white to start with . . . and stays white. It won't turn yellow with age, won't absorb grease. Cooking vapors or steam don't affect its porcelain-like surface, and throughout its long, lustrous life, you'll find it as easy to clean as a china plate.

It dries overnight, too, and is easy to use. DULUX Super White is the ideal long-wearing enamel for kitchen and bathroom walls and woodwork, cabinets, furniture — any interior surface where you want an immaculate WHITE finish that stays white. Your choice of gloss or eggshell finish.

There's a C-I-L Finish for every painting need. See your C-I-L Paint Dealer FIRST

The suggested bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1◇	Pass	1♡
Pass	2♡	Pass	4♡
All Pass

If West's first rebid is one no-trump, there's a likelihood East-West may reach a three no-trump contract; however, that is easy to make because the spades split and three diamonds, three hearts, two clubs and a spade trick can be made without a finesse.

At four hearts, a spade lead knocks out East's ace. Two heart leads reveal that declarer must lose a trump trick, so he must get rid of a spade loser; he does this via a simple club finesse. However, a persuasive trap for thoughtful declarers who foresee the bad trump break is to duck one spade and win the second. The spade leads having proven that South, who passed initially, cannot have a five-card spade suit to the king-queen-jack, plus the ace of diamonds, if East figures South for five spades he may be tempted to eschew the club finesse in favor of knocking out the diamond ace, playing to discard a spade on dummy's long diamond.

However, the warning against this play should be clear in North's failure to high-low in the spade suit—leaving the club finesse as the only sound hope.

East-West par: Bid and make game.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

MUD PUDDLE RAFT

Uncle Butter the grocery store goat was surprised when his wife, Aunt Lettie, said they must make horn music to save Uncle Wiggily from Mr. and Mrs. Fox. The two foxes were only thirty-second cousins to the good Fuzzy Fox, who was Uncle Wiggily's friend. Fuzzy Fox no longer wanted to harm Uncle Wiggily. But Mr. and Mrs. Fox wanted to catch the rabbit. They wanted to plant him in their garden. They were silly enough to think if they planted one rabbit a lot more rabbits would grow up. Just as when you plant three carrot seeds and, later, a dozen or more carrots spring up.

Uncle Wiggily, with an umbrella fastened to his back to keep him dry from the April showers, had been planting seeds in his garden. Then along came sneaking Mr. and Mrs. Fox.

Aunt Lettie saw them as they were starting to crawl under the garden fence and she called to her husband:

"Come on, Pat! We must make horn music and drive away the foxes so they won't catch Uncle Wiggily!"

"How can we make horn music, Lettie?" asked her goat husband. "You know I can't play a horn or anything else, except the radio and television. And I don't believe you can play a horn, either."

"Oh, yes I can, and so can you," bleated Aunt Lettie. "Haven't you a pair of horns on your head, Pat?"

"Yes, Lettie, of course I have."

"And I also have a pair of horns on my head, haven't I?"

"Yes, Lettie. But we can't take these horns off our heads and play them. Even if we could get the horns off our heads, I don't know how to play music on the horns."

"Who said anything about taking the horns off our heads, Pat?"

"Nobody said anything about it, Lettie," answered Mr. Butter. "I thought that's what you were going to do."

"Nothing of the sort, Pat!"

"Well, Lettie, I don't see how we can make music on our horns without taking them off our heads."

"We aren't going to make the music, Pat!"

"Aren't we, Lettie? Then who is going to make the music?"

"Those two foxes, Pat. Those two foxes who are trying to crawl through the fence to get at Uncle Wiggily in his garden. You and I are going to poke those foxes with our horns. The foxes will howl and yowl and that will be the music—horn music—don't you see?"

Uncle Butter wobbled his chin whiskers for a moment. Then a funny smile came over his face and he bleated:

"Well, Lettie, that sure is a fine idea! I see it now! Very clever! We have the horns and the foxes will make the music. Ha! Ha! Ha! Come on, before Mr. and Mrs. Fox crawl through the fence and catch Wiggy! Come on!"

The two goats ran along the fence until they reached the corner. Then, just as Mr. and Mrs. Fox were crawling through the fence rails Aunt Lettie caught Mrs. Fox with two horns and tossed her far away. Uncle Butter jabbed his two horns into the ribs of Mr. Fox and sent him flying through the air. And the two foxes howled.

"Wow! Wow! Ah wow! Ah wow! Ah wow! Ah wow!"

"Isn't that pretty horn music, Pat?" Aunt Lettie asked.

"Very pretty music! Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Butter.

The foxes ran back to their den. In surprise Uncle Wiggily looked from beneath his umbrella. When he heard what the two goats had done to save him from danger, the rabbit was very thankful. Then the rain stopped. Uncle Wiggily had finished planting his garden. He took off his umbrella and went to his bungalow with Mr. Butter and Aunt Lettie. Nurse Jane gave them all some sassafras tea and everybody was happy.

The next day, when it didn't rain, Uncle Wiggily was out hopping around the fields when he came to a large mud puddle. At one edge of the puddle was a raft made of sticks and boards.

"This looks to me like a mud puddle adventure raft," said Uncle Wiggily. "Maybe if I get aboard and push out from shore I shall have an adventure."

What did Uncle Wiggily do? I will tell you tomorrow, if the molasses cookie doesn't fall into the cup of tea when it is racing around the saucer with the piece of apple pie.

Failure to Give Way to Pedestrian Costs Motorist $10 Fine

A Victoria motorist who failed to yield the right of way to a pedestrian was fined $10 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

City Prosecutor Gordon Pourpore told the court the pedestrian involved was an elderly woman on crutches.

Joseph E. Prive, 445 Belleville Street, pleaded guilty to the offense which occurred on April 3. He told the magistrate that he had nothing to say in answer to the charge.

Jack Taylor, 1040 McClure, who was charged with driving while his license was under suspension, was fined $35.

[illegible] told police he had been driving as a "car jockey" ever since his license had been suspended last January.

Failing to remain at the scene of an accident on March 22 cost Duncan motorist George Underwood a $35 fine.

He also pleaded guilty to a second charge of careless driving and was fined $40 and had his license suspended and a report made to the motor vehicle branch.

William H. Brimblecombe, 928 Island Road, pleaded guilty to careless driving and was fined $35.

In explaining the accident in which Brimblecombe was involved, the prosecutor said, accused told police officers he was pointing out the Memorial Arena to a friend and his car went up on the sidewalk, climbed a guy wire of a telephone pole [illegible] on its side.

Gordon Edward Dalziel, 2947 Qu'Appelle, charged with committing a common nuisance by driving a car on Yates Street on Feb. 28 that was equipped with a device which emits flame from the exhaust, was remanded to Thursday.

Edward W. Kostenuk, 253 Cadillac, who faces a similar charge, was remanded to the same day.

Both men are charged under the Criminal Code and not under the Motor Vehicle Act.

Laura Copas, 1107 Linden, charged with making false statements to the Unemployment Insurance Commission, pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and $2.50 costs.

Rotarians Hear Youthful Choir

The shine of 40 young faces and singing ability of their owners were thoroughly enjoyed yesterday by the Victoria Rotary Club.

Guests at the luncheon meeting were members of the club-sponsored Rotary Boys' Choir, under the direction of Frank Shandley, youth service committee chairman Jack Connolly, choir manager, and William Hastings, choir master.

The boys, all aged between 8 and 13 years, presented eight numbers, including "Come to the Fair," "My Task," "Oklahoma," and "Open Road." Young Richard Copley did well in his solo participation in the latter selection. Mrs. Helen McVie was at the piano.

The choir was formed more than a year ago and now has 56 members.

Annual election of officers will be held next Thursday by the club at its regular Empress Hotel luncheon.

Nomination committee chairman Leonard Hobbs reports three names have been submitted for the presidency: W. R. Clark, Dr. Jack Cruise and Capt. Ronald Newell.

The club will also elect members to the board of directors for the 1952-53 term.

President George I. Warren said the presidential election would have to result in one of the three nominees being selected with a marked majority. If that did not happen on the first ballot, a second ballot would be distributed, he said.
